More Than 1,200 Persons Are Thrilled With "Foods From Yesteryear" Session Of Cooking School Opening Tuesday; Two More Programs

By MISS JOAN HABECKER
Times Social Editor

Miss Layneha Chapman, home economist with the National Livestock and Meat Board, Homemakers Service Department, Chicago, lectured and demonstrated foods with a flair on the "Foods from Yesteryear" theme to an audience of more than 1,200 persons in the Gettysburg High School auditorium Tuesday evening. It was the opening session of the 30th annual Gettysburg Times Cooking School. Her assistant, Miss Janice Plager, did an excellent "behind the scenes" job as well as her wordless work on the stage.

Perhaps the most attractive highlight of the evening was the "Parade of Foods" before a revolving mirror.

The prepared foods were brought to Miss Chapman by two pages, the Misses Rosalie Fuhrman and Darlene Funt, who placed it on the revolving table of mirrors. The house lights were turned out and two spotlights played on the food as it revolved to be easily viewed by everyone in the large audience.

Miss Chapman's interspersed pointers on food preparation evoked "ohs" and "ahs" from her audience. She stressed the importance of low heat control for more protein value and tastiness in cooking, baking or broiling meats. In pointing out that the less demanded cuts of meat are just as nutritious as the demanded cuts, Miss Chapman said that of the 126 available cuts of meat only 12 can be identified by the average person. "In doing meats it is best to season after the browning process so that the juice will not be drawn out and a loss of vitamins occurs," she said.

Chooses Pot Roast
For her first demonstration, Miss Chapman chose the pot roast. "The pot roast," she said, "is like a melting pot of vegetables plus the meat just as our country, in yesteryear, was nicknamed the melting pot nation." Turning to another food from early days, Miss Chapman spoke about the mince meat pie while she made the dough and completed the just-before-popping-in-the-oven steps. Housewives, she said, can save on the budget by preparing pastry beforehand and storing it in the refrigerator, "where it will stay real well for a month or more." She stressed the importance of accurate measuring, using a dry measure for the dry ingredients and a liquid measure for the liquids and pointed out that in learning to make a pie it is well to use knives to cut in the lard because the hands melt the shortening. Kneading, she said, develops the gluten, a process which is not wanted in pie dough making.

In making steam vents in the pie lid, the lecturer suggested folding the circle of dough in half before cutting the vents so that the end result is a symmetrical design. "An easy way to get the dough from the pastry cloth is to roll it back over the rolling pin, edge the plate next to the roller, and flip the dough back over the pan. The problem of leaky juice from the pie filler can be solved by allowing the bottom crust to hang over about an inch and a half, then press the edge of the top crust down and bring the bottom flap up and over the top like a hem. The final step is to crimp the edges and a pretty pie is on its way to the oven," she added.

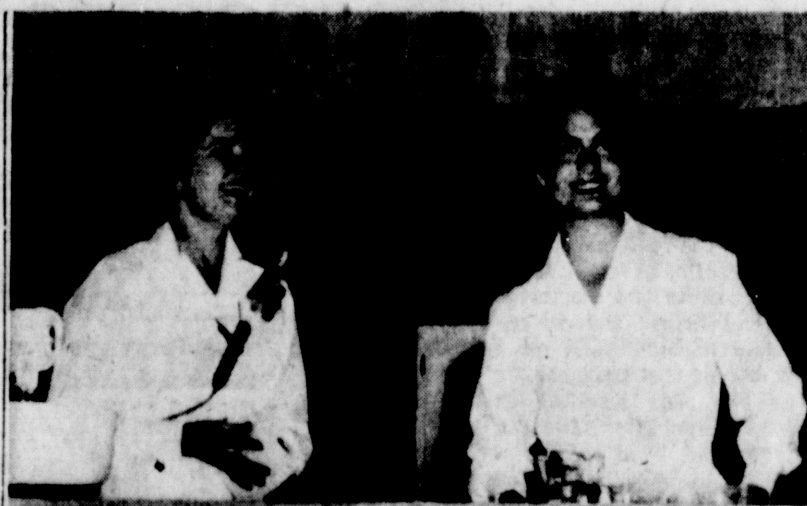

Veal Creole
If the homemaker wants an added flavor and mark of beauty to her pie, she can make a glaze on the top crust by brushing on cream and sprinkling granulated sugar over it before putting the pie into the preheated oven.

Before demonstrating the third dish, veal creole, Miss Chapman said that a good idea for the smart economically-minded shopper is to remove the butcher paper from fresh meat when she gets home from the market and place the meat on a dish or in waxed paper before placing it in the freezer compartment. The butcher paper is protection to the shopper's clothing and serves mainly as an insulator. Miss Chapman compared it with newspaper that people wrap around ice to keep it from melting and said the butcher wrapping would keep out the cold necessary to maintain the meat at a freezing temperature and thus reduce its food value. Creole means that the food is made with tomatoes, Miss Chapman pointed out, as she told how cooking varied from one section of the country to another. Creole, of course, is a southern flavoring method. If a browning agent, such as flour and chili powder, is used in preparing meat, then seasoning added before the browning process

Ike Calls On Americans To Obey High Court Rule

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today called on all Americans to comply with the Supreme Court's school integration rulings lest there be "grave consequences" to the nation.

Eisenhower sounded the call to both public officials and private citizens alike—at a news conference.

He was asked whether, in the light of the court's decisions, Arkansas and Virginia should reopen their closed schools on an integrated basis without being forced into it by the federal government.

Eisenhower had anticipated such questions. He pulled out a prepared statement and read it.

"The Supreme Court, in its opinion rendered Monday, once again has spoken with unanimity on the matter of equality of opportunity for education in the nation's public schools. It is incumbent upon all Americans, public

A request from the Mt. Airy Lutheran Theological Seminary at Philadelphia that the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary appoint a committee to confer on a proposal for a merger of the two seminaries and possible re-location of both will go before the board of directors of the Gettysburg Seminary at the regular meeting next May.

The proposal was referred to the next meeting of the Gettysburg board by its Executive Committee in special session at the seminary here on Tuesday.

The matter came before the executive group in a communication from the board of the Mt. Airy Seminary stating that the Mt. Airy board has authorized such a committee and asking that the Gettysburg board take similar action.

Sees Four Possibilities
Dr. Harry F. Baughman, president of the Gettysburg Seminary, in an interview this morning with a reporter from The Gettysburg Times listed these four possible outcomes from the Mt. Airy proposal. He stated them this way:

First, the possibility that the proposal will not be adopted.

Second, the possibility that a new and different site be found for the merged institution.

Third, the possibility that the merged institution might be located at Gettysburg.

Fourth, the possibility that the management and control of Gettysburg and Mt. Airy seminaries be merged under one direction with specific functions being assigned to each in their present locations.

Asked to explain the background of the proposal from Mt. Airy, Dr. Baughman said:

Suggested Before
"There have been for many years men in the church both in the pastorate and among officials of the church who have felt that there ought not be two seminaries located so closely together in Pennsylvania and that the work of ministerial training would be done better by one large institution, equipped to do the work beyond the scope of the present institutions.

Some laymen have felt that the existence of two institutions in this area means wasteful competition.

"There have been some previous approaches to such a merger but no decisions have resulted from those efforts. Some 25 to 30 years ago a similar proposal was made but was abandoned."

RUNAWAY BOYS DAMAGE SIGNS

The Ted Ketterman Shell Station and Dave Porney Used Car Lot signs, Buford Ave., were damaged to the extent of $1,000 this morning when a Dover, N. J., youth dozed at the wheel of a car and crashed into several signs of the adjoining establishments. The accident occurred at 6:45 o'clock according to borough police.

The 17-year-old driver, who was accompanied by a 16-year-old boy, had run away from their Dover homes last Wednesday at 9 a.m., police learned. The car, owned by the driver's mother, was demolished, police said.

Police learned they were heading east on Buford Ave. when the driver fell asleep and the car swerved to the left, entering first the used car lot, overturning once and then crashing into signs at the service station where it came to rest on top of a sign and flower bed. An electrical sign was left hanging by its power lines, the garage owner, Ted Ketterman, said. The uncontrolled vehicle tore 4-inch pipes, used to support the larger signs, from the ground.

After the Gettysburg Fire Co. ambulance had been summoned, it was found the boys were not injured except the driver who suffered a bloody nose.

MAN GIVES UP AS MD. POLICE ARE CLOSING IN

Robert Warrenfeltz, 26, Wolfsville, accused of beating a construction project foreman in a Wolfsville store Monday about 2:30 p.m., is being held in Frederick County Jail following his apprehension by Maryland state police at the Warrenfeltz home.

Victim of the attack was Frank Fitzgerald, 59, Emmitsburg, foreman of school construction work underway at Wolfsville.

Fitzgerald was taken to Frederick Memorial Hospital in the state police ambulance and treated for facial bruises. He was later released. Meanwhile troopers went to the Warrenfeltz home but were told the man they sought was hiding in nearby woods with several guns, including a 30-30 rifle. Anticipating a manhunt over the populated area, a group of state troopers from Frederick barracks changed to plain clothes to close in on the hidden gunman.

By the time they arrived, however, Warrenfeltz had returned to his home and walked on to a porch to face the heavily-armed officers. They called for his surrender and he dropped his rifle.

State police said Warrenfeltz had been released only last November from Spring Grove Hospital at Catonsville.

Those who participated in bringing about the quiet surrender included State Troopers A. D. Carlson, Robert C. Efford, J. W. Lechler, C. M. Wolford, R. L. Elcamp and Henry I. Stafford.

MEDICOS QUIT UNION SERVICE

ST. MARYS, Pa. (AP)—The Elk-Cameron County Medical Society announced today that it has voted unanimously to withdraw from any further participation in the United Mine Workers welfare and retirement fund.

The society requested any members desiring to work with the fund to resign from the society. There was no immediate comment from the UMW.

A spokesman said the society withdrew from participation with the UMW fund because the fund has dropped many participating hospitals and limited the practice of medicine. These alleged restrictions, the spokesman added, prevented many participants in the fund from being admitted to the fund from being admitted to hospitals of their choice and from receiving medical care from their own physicians.

It was further said that no member of the fund would be denied medical care, whether or not the fund paid for the services.

MAN INJURED RENDERING AID

Lester McGlaughlin, 50, Gettysburg R. 2, is a patient at the Warner Hospital today because he rendered assistance at an automobile accident along the Emmitsburg Rd. this morning.

State police said Catherine E. Ott, 23, Hanover, was driving her 1956 Ford sedan north on the Emmitsburg Rd. about 8½ miles south of here at 6:40 o'clock this morning. She saw a slow moving car ahead of her vehicle, braked, and her car skidded off the highway, up an embankment and overturned onto its roof on the road, police said.

McGlaughlin, driving past, halted his car, ran to the overturned vehicle, and helped the driver, who, according to the report, was uninjured, out of the upset car.

The two were standing on the road, moments after Miss Ott had been removed from the car, when, according to police, a northbound 1955 Chevrolet sedan, operated by Emanuel Jacob Kump, 59, Emmitsburg R. 2, smashed into the overturned Ott car.

Miss Ott was able to leap away quickly enough to avoid being hit, but McGlaughlin was struck by the Ott car as it lurched forward from the impact.

McGlaughlin was removed to the Warner Hospital in the Gettysburg Fire Department ambulance and admitted as a patient with bruise burns on the right side of his face, a sprained neck, contusions of the abdomen, abrasions of the left shin and a possible hip fracture.

Damage was estimated at $450 to the Ott car and $500 to the Kump vehicle.

"WITH MY HEART"

I hold you as I would a rose
... with tenderness untold
... to me you are a treasure rare ... beyond the reach of gold ... my thoughts of you are precious dreams ... that come from deep inside ...
as pure as newly fallen snow
... strong as an ebbing tide
... I see in you enchanting things ... that other eyes don't see ... a thousand gracious attributes ... that mean so much to me ... with faithful understanding ... we'll journey through the years ... sharing smiles and tears ... I kiss you not with burning lips ... that seem a world apart ...
my love stems from the soul of me ... I kiss you with my heart.

Mt. Airy

"The immediate background of this proposal is a rather important merger of four general bodies of the Lutheran church—the United Lutheran Church in America, the Augustana, the Suomi and the United Evangelical Lutheran Church. Provisions for that merger naturally raised questions of theological seminaries in the new church.

Proposed At Mt. Airy
"This immediate proposal came from the spring meeting of the Mt. Airy seminary board which came after the May meeting of the Gettysburg board. The action of the Mt. Airy board was that a Committee of Seven be appointed to explore the possibility of merger with Gettysburg and relocation of both institutions and inviting a like committee from Gettysburg to confer in the matter.

"This proposal was given publicity in the Philadelphia papers and was also the subject of action at meetings of synods affiliated with the Philadelphia institution. "The meeting of our executive committee yesterday was the first opportunity anyone connected with the administration of the seminary had to consider it officially. The notice was received merely as an invitation and provision was made to present it to the board of directors at its next regular meeting in May, 1959."

Student Bodies Equal Now
Dr. Baughman, asked if any of the ULCA synods or other church bodies have taken any stand on the proposed merger, said that no action on this specific proposal has yet been taken.

Questioned about the background and size of the two institutions, Dr. Baughman said that historically Gettysburg was the first seminary. It is now in its 133rd year. Mt. Airy was formed around the 1860's. The student bodies are now exactly equal at 156 although Mt. Airy often has had a larger enrollment than Gettysburg.

Dr. Baughman said in answer to another question that negotiations have not reached the point where any discussion of possible use of the present seminaries plants would be made in case of a merger.

Only Two Involved Now
Asked if other Lutheran seminaries may be involved in the merger, the seminary president said that the present proposal involves Gettysburg and Mt. Airy only.

In reply to this question: "In whose hands does final decision for such a change rest?" Dr. Baughman said: "The final decision does not rest in higher officials of the ULCA nor finally in the boards of the two institutions. The ownership of the seminaries is vested in the constituent synods and final decision would have to be made in consultation with those synods."

"What is your estimate of the possibility of such a merger and relocation taking place?" Dr. Baughman was asked. He said: "I am not in position to make any estimate or statement now on future possibilities." At the same time he added that the Gettysburg board of directors has not discussed the proposal and there has been no opportunity for sounding out their opinions on the proposal.

Other Business Matters
The Gettysburg executive committee at its meeting here Tuesday had several other matters before it. Much of the time was spent considering the report of a study committee on the seminary and its program which projected staff increases and possible additions to facilities, discussed curriculum matters and considered a summer institute for preachers for in-service training. The report of the committee and four charged with other offenses.

SEPTEMBER HAD EXTRA HALF INCH OF RAIN HERE

September became the eighth month this year to record a surplus of rain while temperatures for the 30-day period were within less than a half degree of normal for Gettysburg.

Rainfall last month totaled 3.97 inches. Normal is 3.46 inches on the basis of records kept for the last 55 years. The surplus of 0.51 inches brings the 1958 excess of rain for the first nine months to 5.64 inches. The total precipitation up to October 1 was 37.33 inches. Only July this year had a shortage of rainfall.

Measurable amounts of rain fell on eight weather days last month. Temperatures were moderate and ranged between a high of 89 degrees to a low of 39 degrees on Monday morning. Readings above the 90-degree mark are not unusual here in September.

The average daily high reading was 75.96 degrees and the average daily low was 54.3 degrees, making the average reading for the month 65.63 degrees. The "normal" average for September weather here is 66 degrees or 0.37 degrees above last month's average.

More Rain At Arendtsville
The Arendtsville weather station report, furnished this morning by Dr. Frank N. Hewelson, showed a much heavier rainfall there than in Gettysburg for last month. The total rainfall there was 5.62 inches last month and nearly half of it was measured on the 28th when 2.51 inches fell. The September rainfall total was 2.57 inches above normal for Arendtsville and the month received 2.77 inches more than September of last year.

The September figure brought the 1958 accumulation for nine months to 38.7 inches which is 6.46 inches above normal for the station and 13.12 inches above normal.

The average temperature was 64.68 degrees which is four tenths of a degree above normal. The high reading was 90 degrees on September 16 and 26 and the low was 39 on the 29th.

Postpone Meeting Of Explorer Post

The meeting of Explorer Post 73 scheduled for this evening has been postponed until Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, Richard Kershner, advisor, has announced.

Kershner said the meeting was postponed because burglars entered the former Gettysburg Sportsmen's Association building along Wainwright Ave., now being renovated by the Explorer Post for its use, sometime Tuesday. They broke a window and ripped the lock from the door to gain entry. While articles were disturbed, nothing apparently was stolen, Kershner said. He added that state police are investigating the incident.

Plans for the use of the grant include the implementation of the mental health program for student nurses of the college during their affiliation at Seton Institute, Baltimore, and workshops in mental health.

The Junior Class of the Fairfield Joint High School will present a three-act comedy, "Plain English," Friday evening, October 24, in the high school auditorium. The play is directed by Gary Bechtel. Curtain time is 8:15.

In the play Bill Anderson finds himself in a difficult position as he tries to make a date with Laura Carter, a studious student who has forewarned men, or submits to the paddles of his fraternity brothers. He winds up impersonating Hubert, a British pen pal of Laura's. The trouble arises when Laura falls in love with the phony Hubert and is further complicated when two of Bill's fraternity brothers try their hand at the impersonation and the real Hubert appears. However, things are straightened out to the great relief of all.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

200 Masons At Services: Fully 200 members of Good Samaritan Lodge, Free and Accepted Masons of Gettysburg, their wives, families and friends attended devotional exercises at the Masonic home.
The service was in charge of the local lodge, and the throng in attendance was the largest in many months, officials of the Masonic home said.The sermon for the occasion was preached by Dr. Harvey D. Hoover, a member of the faculty at nary. The Rev. Howard S. Fox, pastor of Trinity Reformed church, officiated at the organ, and Austin Lang, a student at Gettysburg college, sang a solo.The local sub-station of the state motor patrol furnished an escort for the motorcade from Gettysburg at Elizabethtown.Mrs. Lewars' Newest Book, "Swords of Steel," Adds to Gettysburg's Fame: Gettysburg's place in the literary world is enhanced by Elsie Singmaster's newest book,
"Swords of Steel," an advance copy of which has just been received by the editor of The Gettysburg Times from the publishers, Houghton Mifflin Company. To home folk, the writer is perhaps better known as Mrs. Elsie Sing-master Lewars.It is a thrillingly realistic story of the Gettysburg country in the days of the Civil War and the battles here and through it, the author again, in the words of the New York Times, "contributes the best type of fiction and performs the service of widening the horizon of our human sympathies."Inside the front and back covers is an excellent map of the Gettysburg battlefield with its highspots plainly designated in order to give the reader a clearer conception of the historical settings.The publishers characterize the book as "a powerful, deeply absorbing story in which the reader sees through the eyes of a sensitive boy, John Deane, events preceding the Civil War in the Gettysburg country, the pursuit of escaped negroes, the attack on Harper's Ferry, then war at close range when John's home is taken over by the enemy.""Swords of Steel" is Elsie Sing-master's tenth outstanding work of fiction besides her dozens of captivating stories for children, her numerous magazine articles and her splendid biography of "The Life of Martin Luther."Laboratory To Be Continued:
Dr. Stewart W. Frost, entomologist at the Pennsylvania State college laboratory, Ardenstville, received word last week that the closing of the laboratory, scheduled for October 1, has been indefinitely postponed.When word was received some time ago that the laboratory was to be closed, fruit growers in the upper end of the county began circulating petitions to keep the place open because of the invaluable service the laboratory has rendered since it was located in Ardenstville 15 years ago.The petitions were signed by 210 fruit growers whose holdings represent more than 16,000 acres, and

Today's Talk

OUR BELIEVE-INS

We would not go far in life if we didn't keep adding to our friendships. I wonder if I can't call a friend a "believe-in?"
That is, a person who believes in us. As a boy just out of school I got a job in Chicago distributing bills to residents. I didn't waste a single bill. When I returned my report to the minister who had engaged me, he handed me a dollar
— my wage, and said: "Good luck to you, George. We believe in you."Time and again I have thought of that simple experience, but it has had its good influence. It is a wonderful thing to have people believe in you. Were it not for this most of us would be very unhappy. It's the people who believe in us who do so much to assure us success and happiness in this world.It's our believe-ins who are our refuge when all others have faded away. A man may well state that he is a wealthy man with only one tried and true friend. But, of course, the more such friends you can gather to your side, the better — and happier. These believe-ins can so influence us that we, too, may give ourselves to the happy occupation of believing in others and be happy over the fact.Read history. Read the story of those who have achieved greatly and left their words and personality behind them for oncoming generations. Read about such figures and emulate them. Just having someone near and dear who will believe in us when loneliness or discouragement occurs is bound to make all the difference. It will turn on the light ahead.Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Life's Little Extras"Protected, 1958, by The George

Just Folks

YOUNG FATHER'S BOAST

I'm not a booster in the sense
That I am proud of what I do;
I never brag of the expense
When I appear in garments new;In humbleness I take my way, But searching east and seeking west
Of all the babes on earth today, I'm sure that mine is far the best.A million little ones or more There are today from sea to sea
That play upon the carpeted floor Or hobby horse on daddy's knee.A million little ones at night In mother's loving arms may rest;
But this I know, and I am right,
Of all, my baby is the best.I'm not a braggart of my worth,
I never boast of common things;
I do not wish to share the earth Or wield the mighty power of kings.I'm happier by far than they,
I'm prouder, too, for I am blest;It is not boasting when I say
My baby, bless him, is the best.

FAIL TO FIND

FUGITIVE ON

ALCATRAZ ISLE

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The hunt for a missing Alcatraz convict went on today as the odds mounted that he either had drowned in tide-swept San Francisco Bay or had become the first escaped prisoner to swim to the mainland.Through the night, guards combed the rocky caves of the island prison shoreline and flushed them out with tear gas bombs, but there was no sign of Aaron Walter Burgett, 26-year-old Missouri gunman.Monday, he and another prisoner, Clyde M. Johnson, 36, a convicted bank robber from Memphis, Tenn., bound a guard while serving on a garbage detail and vanished in a fog. Two hours later Johnson was found shivering waist deep in water just off shore.

Strong Ebb Tide

Associate Warden Joseph D.
Latimer said Johnson told prison authorities he had had a plastic bag which he tried to use as a water wing but that it got away from him almost as soon as he started swimming.Latimer said another prisoner, whom he did not name, told him Burgett also may have had such a bag, which he could blow up with air and use to keep afloat on the long, chilly grind of more than a mile to the San Francisco shore across an ebb tide which was running out the Golden Gate at nearly 10 miles an hour.

otherwise unmet needs both for the man and his family, Red Cross spends about $36,000,000 each year in serving the armed forces and the veterans.The Adams County Chapter helps with those services. Adams County chapter records show that in the last year the Home Service Department of the local Red Cross chapter helped 965 families of which 200 were veterans and 668 servicemen.Among the help given these veterans and servicemen were their families were 430 reports for the medical or Veterans Administration, assistance with government benefits in 132 cases, 46 cases of financial assistance and counseling in personal and family problems in 228 cases. The office workers at the Red Cross conducted 1,782 interviews, made more than 2,600 telephone calls and sent 433 telegrams in performing these free services.In the last year the county chapter assisted with emergency needs of six families who lost their homes in this county by fire. These families were given assistance ranging from emergency care, clothing, food and bedding and public donations to the families were channeled through the Red Cross.

Three first aid classes were taught in Adams County under Red Cross sponsorship in the last year and a total of 50 certificates were awarded. Red Cross-trained instructors taught the classes. The chapter also operated first aid stations for the public at the VFW carnival, the firemen's carnival and at the South Mountain Fair.One of the most outstanding services rendered by the Adams County chapter of the Red Cross annually is its summer water safety program.
Last summer in one of the most extensive water safety programs ever conducted here, 1,100 youngsters and adults were given swimming instruction from elementary strokes to senior life saving classes. In this program as in so many other phases of the Red Cross work, volunteers gave great assistance in the project.

Many Other Services

Home nursing courses were conducted in the various high schools in the county in the last year. Members of the Home Nursing committee visited the schools, arranged for transportation of equipment when necessary and awarded certificates.
A total of 83 home nursing certificates were awarded.The furnishing without charge of convalescents' supplies such as wheel chairs, crutches, back rests and cane is another Red Cross service.Participation for many years in the local mental health clinic, the handling of Travelers' Aid funds here, the furnishing of blood donors where emergency needs exist and the supervision and promotion of an outstanding Junior Red Cross program in the schools of the county are other facets of the Red Cross program in Adams County.

County Drive Next March

All of these services, plus the maintenance of a chapter headquarters and the employment of an experienced executive secretary and an office assistant require substantial amounts of money each year and the only source for this financial help is the people of Adams County.The Red Cross funds for Gettysburg and its immediate rural vicinity will be raised for 1959 in the current Community Chest cam-

Little Rock Awaits Word On

Promised New School Plan

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Parents and pupils in Little Rock awaited word today of a promised new plan to get the city's four high schools opened on a segregated basis.In Virginia, Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. said he hopes to move within the next few days to reopen nine schools in Norfolk, Charlottesville and Warren County.A federal court order prevented the Little Rock Private School
Corp. from opening the schools
Tuesday, and a source close to Gov. Orval E. Faubus declared,
"We are at the end of the line."

Promise New Plan

But Dr. T. J. Raney, head of the corporation, said a new plan would be announced today. He declined to reveal its nature.Faubus, who closed the schools Sept. 12 pending a vote on integration, said "a way will be found" and urged the people to stand firm in the fight to maintain segregation. A referendum Saturday revealed 72 per cent of the voters backing separate schools for Negroes and white pupils.More than 70 high school teachers agreed unanimously to comply with the court order blocking the private school measure. Their lawyers had advised them that they are still under contract to the School Board and not to the private corporation.

Retaining Control

The board leased the buildings to the corporation, but the Court of Appeals at Omaha directed it to retain control until a three-judge panel hears the case in St.
Louis Monday.Almond's statement about reopening the nine Virginia schools, all shut down by the governor after being ordered by federal judges to admit Negroes, came at a news conference.At almost the same time, the governor got a request from the Norfolk City Council that he reopen six schools there and perate them in a segregated basis under the police power of the state.

No Comment From Almond

The Council acted under Virginia's massive resistance laws, which require the governor to take the action if the city declares an emergency and makes the request.Almond would not comment on the Norfolk action, and he refused to say what move he would make

Except Two Great Lefthanders Will Wage Sizzling Pitchers' Duel Today In Series Opener

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
MILWAUKEE (AP) — Two of baseball's greatest left-handers—Milwaukee's Warren Spahn and New York's Whitey Ford—were expected to make the opener of the 1958 World Series a sizzling pitchers' duel today.

Despite the fact that the Series was opening in Milwaukee and Ford had not won a single of his five Series triumphs away from Yankee Stadium, the Yankees ruled 5½-5 to win the first game and 7-5 to capture the Series.

Precedent was against the Braves. No National League champion has been able to win two October classics in succession since the New York Giants whipped Miller Huggins' Yankees in 1921 and 1922.

Seven Games Last Year
Since then the Yankees have won 17 world championships in 21 tries. They bowed to the Braves, however, in the last one, in seven games.

Yankee Manager Casey Stengel, still smarting from that loss, blamed it on some bum advice he had received from National League friends. He vowed this time to follow his own judgment.

"Them fellers sure gave me a bum steer," he said Tuesday night. "They told me (Eddie) Mathews couldn't field and that he was just a fair runner. They said (Lew) Burdette couldn't beat us. Well, you know what Lew did against us last year and he won 20 games this year."

Casey Plans To Win
He said, "This time I'm going to use my own judgment. I got some ideas of my own. I'm going to lose a little as well as myself, not anybody else. But I don't expect to lose. I did enough losing to those guys last year."

Stengel didn't disclose his ideas. But he notified reporters his lineup would be:

Bauer, rf; McDougald, 2b; Mantle, cf; Howard, lf; Berra, c; Skowron, 1b; Carey, 3b; Kubek, ss; Ford, p.

Pulls Surprise
Earlier he had hinted strongly that Elston Howard would be in right field in place of Hank Bauer, who had a sore left wrist. Stengel then watched Bauer slam several line drives in batting practice and remarked, "It's up to him."

Another factor in Stengel's change of mind could have been Hank's World Series record. He has hit safely in his last 14 Series games.

Inserting Howard in left field and benching rookie Norm Siebern was a surprise. Siebern has been one of the most consistent of Yankee hitters, finishing with a .300 average.

Haney Holds Out
Howard, of course, bats right-handed and Siebern left-handed. The fact that a southpaw was to pitch for Milwaukee undoubtedly dictated Casey's thinking.

Manager Fred Haney of the Braves stuck to his guns. He said he wasn't going to name his starting lineup until just before the game and he didn't.

It was virtually certain, however, that he would cling to the same lineup he used going down the stretch with Wes Covington in left field, Felix Mantilla in center and Joe Adcock at first base because of southpaw pitching. Covington, although still hobbled by bad legs, insisted he was ready to play.

The CENTRENT by STETSON

Now, to match the brisk tempo of the season, Stetson presents—The Centredent. A deep-sculptured center crease style ending in a pronounced pinch front... premolded to hold its shape. On the matching band a swept-wing bow accents the newness.

MID ATLANTIC SOCCER LOOP TO OPEN PLAY

Bucknell hosts Temple Thursday in the opening game of the Middle Atlantic Conference soccer season. Twenty-four teams, equally divided into Northern and Southern Divisions, will play 91 games for the conference title, won by Swarthmore last year.

Of the six All Americans from conference teams last season only two, Swarthmore's Sergei Retinov (outside left) and Washington College's John Jennings (right fullback), are back. However, Drexel's Ozzie Jethon, a 1958 All American outside left in 1956, out last season for scholastic ineligibility, is returning.

Northern and Southern division titlists will play off for the conference championship. Last season, Rutgers (7-0) won the Northern crown, losing the conference crown to Southern winners Swarthmore (6-0). Eligibility for the championship requires each team to play a minimum of six conference games, with four of them being in one's own division. Only West Chester, of the 24 teams, does not qualify, but its games with conference opponents count.

The breakdown:
Northern Division
Bucknell, Elizabethtown, Gettysburg, Hofstra, Lafayette, Lehigh, Lycoming, Muhlenberg, Rutgers, Stevens Tech, Wagner and Wilkes.
Southern Division
Delaware, Drexel Tech, Franklin & Marshall, Haverford, Johns Hopkins, La Salle, Swarthmore, Temple, Ursinus, Washington College, West Chester and Western Maryland.

Here are this weekend's winners:
Oklahoma over Oregon: That new ball-bearing offense of the Sooners finds Oregon no more difficult than West Virginia last week.

It's Auburn Again
Auburn over Chattanooga: Auburn held Tennessee to minus yardage last weekend.

Washington over California: This game follows the World Series on your TV.

Ohio State over Washington: The Buckeyes' infantry should prevail even if Frank Kremblas doesn't heal in time.

Michigan State over Michigan: This is a family war but Michigan State's sophomores are the pick even though Michigan boasts one of the country's best plungers in John Herrnstein.

Likes Cadets And Irish
Army over Penn State: The Cadets' bazooka offense no longer is a surprise but those two halfbacks, Dawkins and Anderson, will shock the Pennsylvania Lions enough.

Notre Dame over Southern Methodist: Don Meredith will scare the daylight out of the Irish but in the end they will prevail by about the margin of a single touchdown.

Clemson over Maryland: The Carolina Tigers won their 100th victory under Coach Frank Howard, Eddie Lopat and Vic Rychalski. Casey Stengel was caught short with nobody for the fourth. Because Leo Durocher had gambled and won on Dave Koslo in the opener, the Giants had Sal Maglie ready for No. 4.

It poured that Sunday morning and continued during the afternoon. Commissioner Ford Frick viewed the field and finally had to call it off.

Monday turned out to be a good day and they resumed. Maglie still was ready, perhaps over-ready, for he was bumped 6-2. Stengel now had Reynolds set with three days of rest. Allie won, and the Yanks took the next two for a 4-2 series victory.

MAKES CHOICES FOR WEEKEND GRID CLASSICS

NEW YORK (AP)—If you hit for .300 in the World Series you are a champ. If you hit for less than .600 in football selections you are a champ. Last week's record was 42 correct and 13 wrong for .764.

Back in 1911, the Philadelphia Athletics and the New York Giants played the longest series ever. For a while one week they played pinocchio in a Philadelphia hotel lobby watching the rain stream down the front windows.

After the third game it rained exactly a week before they could resume. The boys finally crawled home in time for the rabbit season.

The postponement that had the most serious effect on a series result came in 1951. The Yankees and Giants were engaged in one of those old fashioned neighborhood duels.

Rain Helped Yanks
After three games, the Giants led 2-1. More important, the Yankees already had used Allie Reynolds, Eddie Lopat and Vic Rychalski. Casey Stengel was caught short with nobody for the fourth. INJURIES TO PLAY BIG ROLE ON GRID AGAIN

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer
One of the great equalizers in college football—the injury—is making the experts take a long look at Saturday's games.

Incentive and mud—the other two—are always a hazard in picking the winners, but the return or loss of key players in midweek makes things more interesting.

That could be the case at Dartmouth Saturday where Penn, a 43-0 loser last week to Penn State, must face the Indians without Fred Dolling, their right halfback who twisted an ankle. Dolling led the Quakers' ground offense last year with 511 yards. Penn's center, John Marchiano, is also out.

Bartmouth, already a 12-point early favorite, lost tackle Bill Pettway, perhaps for the season, with a knee injury in the Lafayette game.

Illinois, a three-point favorite, goes out of the Big Ten to Durham, N. C., for a battle against the Atlantic Coast Conference's Duke and will have to get along with only limited service, at least, from captain and fullback Jack Delvaux. He pulled a leg muscle against UCLA while quarterback Bob Hickey has a sprained ankle that caused Coach Ray Eliot to move soph John Esterbrook to No. 1 quarterback.

Purdue, worried enough with Rice's powerful offense, will probably be without first string quarterback Bob Spoo, out with bruised ribs suffered against Nebraska. The Boilermakers are seven-point favorites against the Owls.

Pitt has been listed an early 6½ point favorite over Minnesota's Gophers. But the Panthers still don't know the status of quarterback Bill Kalden, who has a bruised instep, Ivan Tomic, a pulled rib muscle, and halfback Bill Haley, a sprained ankle.

Ohio State will be the favorite over the Washington Huskies Saturday, but the absence of Buckeye quarterback Frank Kremblas could take its toll. Kremblas' passing shift Woody Hayes' boys a sudden shift from his ground offense in their 23-20 Southern Methodist victory.

Indiana Hopes Fade
Any hopes Indiana, a six-point underdog, had of catching West Virginia, still down after its 47-14 blasting by Oklahoma, were dimmed with the return of Mountaineer quarterback Dick Longfellow.

Though he played his team's first game, Michigan fullback John Herrnstein, an injury victim most of 1957, is still the key for the Wolverines against Michigan State. The Spartans are 13-point favorites, but Herrnstein is looked on as the possible equalizer.

He duped his entire 1957 output with 144 yards gained against South California last week, scoring two touchdowns.

PASTRANO OUT ON TKO IN 5TH

LONDON (AP) — Strange things are happening to American heavyweight contenders on this side of the Atlantic.

Europe's big boys no longer hasten to horizontal positions at the sight of an American left hook.

Willie Pastrano is the latest Yank to trip on his rating.

The third-ranked contender from Miami Beach, Fla., lost on a fifth round technical knockout, because of a cut over his left eye, to British heavyweight champion Brian London Tuesday night.

Only last Sept. 14, Eddie Machen, unbeaten and the No. 2 contender from Redding, Calif., was flattened in the first round by European champion Ingemar Johansson of Sweden.

Next to visit London will be Zora Foley, Uncle Sam's No. 1 contender from Chandler, Ariz. He fights Henry Cooper on Oct. 14.

Helium gas is odorless, tasteless, colorless, inert. It will not burn or explode.

TROJANS HAVE BIG EDGE IN LONG SERIES

Beating a Chambersburg football team is a rarity for Gettysburg High School but Coach Ben Jones and his 1958 Warriors will concede nothing when the teams clash here Friday evening in the locals' first home game of the season.

Records reveal that Gettysburg has won but eight, lost 19 while five games ended in ties in a series which began in 1919.

Since 1932 Gettysburg has won only two games, 20-13 in 1941 and 12-0 in 1942, while 19 were lost and four others were stalemates.

Gettysburg's only undefeated team, the squad of 1951, had its record marred by a 20-20 tie at Chambersburg.

Last Win In 1942
There have been no Warrior victories since 1942 and in addition to the 1951 deadlock only one other tie, a 6-6 game in 1952. Last year the Trojans took a 12-7 decision at Chambersburg.

This year Chambersburg again looms as a powerhouse in South Penn circles. The Trojans have won three straight and are ranked as a definite title contender.

The Warriors have lost to Westminster and tied Shippensburg. A victory Friday night would be an end to the Maroon and White outfit.

Sizes Up Burdette
Warren Spahn, the Braves' ace who won 22 this season, matching Pittsburgh's Bob Friend for the National League high, was the Milwaukee starter today. Whitey Ford (14-7) was Stengel's choice, making it an all southpaw opener.

Low Burdette will start for the Braves in the second game.

"Take Burdette," Stengel said. "He makes everybody but the manager wrong because he wins 20 games over in that league this year, and he's only lost three since the All-Star Game."

"A lotta people tell you Burdette wasn't really a great pitcher and the way to beat him is don't put any left-handers against him. But his manager pitches him three times in the last Series, and who is it who beats us? Burdette. Beats us three times and we get beat."

Turley Goes Next
"All those people tell me how Burdette can be beat, but I notice nobody's been able to do it yet over in that league."

Stengel then touched on his Yankees.

"We won the pennant because early in the season we got some rain and you think that might hurt us, but it helps us because I can pitch my two best, Ford and Turley, in almost all of those early games."

"And while I'm at it, Turley is my pitcher tomorrow in the second game. He won 21 for us and he was great."

Bob Turley, a right-hander, was the only consistent pitcher the Yankees had, and he went into a late slump. Whitey Ford began strong but of late has been hampered by a sore elbow.

In less than an hour a typical hurricane expends more energy than 50 years' production of electric power in the U. S., reports the National Geographic Society.

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The thermometer should reach in "unseasonably cool" 52 degrees by 2 p.m. (EST) today, the start of the 1958 World Series between the Milwaukee Braves and the New York Yankees.

The weatherman said skies would be partly cloudy but no rain was in sight. He recommended topcoats—and perhaps a blanket—to keep warm.

UNION ORDERS DECK OFFICERS TO QUIT SHIPS

NEW YORK (AP) — Deck officers were ordered by their union today to quit work on a major part of the ships in the United States passenger and dry cargo fleets based in Atlantic and Gulf Coast ports.

The work stoppage was called against 20 large steamship companies by the International Organization of Masters, Mates and Pilots.

About 1,300 ship officers are involved.

Estimates of the number of ships affected range from 300 to 400. Ships at sea were not included in the stop-work order.

Contract Expires

The contract between the union and the American Merchant Marine Institute, which represents the 20 companies, expired at midnight Tuesday.

The union ordered the men not to work without a contract, and called the situation a "tieup." Ralph E. Casey, president of the employer group, called it a "strike."

The contract disagreements were reliably reported to concern vacation, pension and welfare benefits. The union has not sought a wage increase.

The United States Lines, anticipating a tieup, postponed indefinitely the sailing of its flagship, the United States. The liner had been scheduled to leave New York for Europe Thursday.

The dispute does not affect West Coast ship operators. Neither does it affect foreign lines and companies which have contracts with another officers union.

Also not affected are about 30 companies, most of which operate one or two ships. They have signed contracts with the Masters, Mates and Pilots.

Tankers are not involved.

MORE CALLED TO TAKE STAND IN FRAUD CASE

LEWISBURG, Pa. (AP) — More government witnesses were scheduled to march to the stand today in a parade of civilian and military personnel in a trial of three men on charges of conspiracy to defraud the government.

The U. S. District Court trial already has recorded testimony from 18 prosecution witnesses brought here from several states to testify in the trial of the two Air Force officers and a businessman.

Defendants in the trial, now in its second week, are: Col. Charles F. Burley, Dayton, Ohio; Col. Ralph O. Brownfield, Kansas City; and Robert F. McNett, president of Royal Electric Co., Dayton, Ohio.

The prosecution claims the three joined in a scheme to cheat the Federal Government in contracts connected with Olmsted Air Force Base, near Harrisburg.

Cleaves Burley
Maj. Kenneth C. Weatherwax of Kingston, N. Y., former deputy chief of procurement at Olmsted, testified Tuesday on cross-examination that Burley was not responsible for the addition of Royal Electric to the list of source suppliers.

Weatherwax said the name was added as a result of a conference involving a number of persons.

The list includes companies capable of producing certain articles for the government. Notice of bidding on future projects is sent regularly to firms on the list.

The government has contended that Burley was responsible for the addition of the Ohio firm.

Wavering River Still A Threat

PRESIDIO, Tex. (AP) — The Rio Grande, rising and falling here like a roller-coaster since Sunday, went down again today.

The border river rose slowly Tuesday night and early today to within less than three inches of the record flood level set Sunday.

Reports from Mexico indicated, however, flooding rivers there will pour even more water into the Rio Grande.

Ralph England, a newsman at this southwestern Texas city of 1,000, said the river apparently crested at about 3 a.m. today and started falling slowly.

New Basting For Hen Not So Good

WYNNE, Ark. (AP) — Mrs. Claude Brawner put a nice fat hen in the oven to bake, then dashed off to the beauty parlor.

When she returned, she took down a pint jar which she thought held bacon drippings and set about basting the bird.

Ever taste varnished hen?

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican has forbidden use of phonographs, radios and other mechanical or automatic musical instruments in services of the Roman Catholic Church.

Motion pictures, whether silent or spoken, may not be shown inside churches. Loud-speakers are permitted.

Winds Aloft Stall Balloon Flight

CROSBY, Minn. (AP) — The Air Force is having trouble getting off the ground with its Manhigh III stratospheric balloon flight.

Winds at high altitude forced a second postponement of the launching. The balloon, carrying Lt. Clifton McClure, 25, Anderson, S.C., was to have gone up at dawn today.

The Air Force said it will try again Thursday to launch McClure on a flight to an altitude of 100,000 feet. Weather experts said the winds which forced the latest postponement would have carried McClure into remote reaches of Canada.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — "Keep your powder dry and hope the opportunity will come before long."

President Syngman Rhee told South Korean troops as they observed the third Armed Forces Day today.

Rhee apparently referred to an opportunity to fight against the Communists to bring about reunification of the divided nation.

CASTEL GANDOLFO (AP) — Pope Pius XII is described as fatigued, but not ill, after one of the busiest months of his 19-year reign. Vatican circles, acknowledging the 82-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church was tired, denied today rumors he was fighting a new attack of hiccups. It was four years ago that he was seriously ill with hiccups.

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The last U.S. Marine battalion in Lebanon sailed early today for a rendezvous with the U.S. 6th Fleet.

The 3rd Battalion, 6th Marine Regiment, is to remain with the fleet in the Mediterranean. It consists of 1,500 men.

12 to 14-pound smoked ham
2 cups peach preserves
1 teaspoon allspice
1 teaspoon cinnamon
Whole cloves
Place ham, fat side up, on rack in open roasting pan. Insert meat thermometer so the bulb reaches the center of the thickest part and does not rest in fat or on bone. Do not add water. Do not cover. Roast in a slow oven (300° F.) until the thermometer registers 160° F. Allow 18 to 20 minutes per pound for roasting. Combine preserves, allspice, and cinnamon. Remove ham from oven 45 minutes before done. Score ham; place whole cloves in scored portions. Spread glaze over ham and continue roasting for 45 minutes.

Banana Bonanza Cake
Miss Chapman, as she mixed up a banana bonanza cake, said that lard is the best shortening agent in cooking and baking because it is animal fat, which is necessary for good skin health. Vegetable shortenings naturally do not contain animal fat. The danger is over-mixing a cake, Miss Chapman said, is after the leavening agent has been added. A tip on how to make sour milk is to add some lemon juice or vinegar to fresh or sweet milk and let it sit for a minute or two. Dry ingredients for a cake should be sifted together before adding them to the liquid mixture in the beater bowl. Double acting baking powder acts first when the liquid is in contact with it and again when the mixture meets the heat. Sides of a cake pan should not be greased because the batter will slide down, making the cake uneven.

2 Kinds Of Soup
Soups are of two kinds, Miss Chapman said. There is the hale and hearty type that is a meal in itself and also the watery soup that serves only as an appetizer. Dark soup comes from browning the meat used and light soup is a result of using no meat or not browning the meat at all. If the soup contains meat, the cook should chop it as it is tender so that everyone gets a portion. Grandma's beef soup was used to demonstrate the soup art.

America is the best fed nation and yet malnutrition is widespread, Miss Chapman pointed out. Nutrition is one of the most talked about subjects, as well as vitamins and calories. Liver should be included in the diet at least once every 23 meals or once a week, Miss Chapman said as she worked on the sixth dish, liver and vegetables traditionally. Liver is tasty pan fried or broiled and for variety it can be braised. Dredging meat for frying, such as liver, means to pound seasoned flour into it. Put the flour on a cutting board or pastry cloth and push the meat down into it until it is well covered.

Frying Sausage
A tricky way to fry sausage that is different from the conventional method of meat frying is to add water instead of fat. Cover the pan and steam the contents for five minutes. Then take the cover off and brown the sausage before serving. Favorite one-dish meals are included in many recipes for stews and casseroles, Miss Chapman suggested an attractive way to use up left over mashed potatoes. Decorate the casserole as you would a cake, squeezing the potatoes from a pastry bag to make a fluffy edge design. Brush the potatoes with melted butter, sprinkle with chopped parsley, and pop the casserole into the oven to be lightly browned.

Using Thermometer
In using a thermometer to roast or bake meat, Miss Chapman said that the thermometer prongs should not touch fat or bone because they cause it to register improperly. To put the finishing touches on a roast smoked ham Miss Chapman scored the meat first in one direction and then the other to make diamond shapes in the fat layer. Cloves stuck in the diamond add a zesty flavor. Cutting through the fat layer would cause meat juices to escape, she said.

Broiling foods is the quick and easy way to make a meal which is good for all diets. Fat gives flavor and aids in the cooking process, Miss Chapman said and suggested that homemakers do not request the marketman to remove the fat from their meat purchases. Using a shallow pan with a rack and seasoning the meat after it is brown gives best results.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

5 PITTSBURGH HOTELS STRUCK

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Pittsburgh's first major hotel strike since 1946 crippled five of the city's biggest hotels today.

Representatives of two unions ordered 2,300 service employees off the job at 1:40 a.m. after angrily rejecting a last-minute offer by the hotel operators.

Within an hour pickets appeared in front of the Penn-Sheraton, Roosevelt, Pittsburgher, Sherwyn and Webster Hall hotels.

No registrations are being accepted. Guests already registered are being urged to check out immediately.

A skeleton supervisory force was on duty at each hotel. Assistant managers ran elevators. Picket lines were set up by the striking unions, the Bartenders and the Hotel and Restaurant Workers.

One of the chief roadblocks to a settlement was a union demand for a 40-hour week for non-tipped employees. Union negotiators stalked out of the session after management had offered to reduce the present 48-hour week gradually until the 40-hour figure was reached in 1960.

ONLY 6 CASES

of a fire alarm system against George L. Carson, York, and Robert Y. Warden, Harrisburg, in one case, against Warden alone in another and against Carson and Miller Brubaker, near Harrisburg, in the third. The charge against Carson and Warden was brought by Francis T. Weaver, Gettysburg R. 5.

The charge against Warden alone is brought by Leroy G. Little, Gettysburg R. 5, and the charge of "cheating by false pretense" against Carson and Brubaker is brought by Donald W. Gardner also of Gettysburg R. 5. All pertain to purchase of installation of a fire alarm system by "Fyre Safety Inc." at costs ranging from approximately $600 to approximately $800.

Indictments against the men involved in the fire alarm system sales were obtained at the last term of court.

May Inspect Buildings
Only one desertion and non-support case is scheduled so far, against Clayton C. Arbaugh, McSherrystown.

With the case load for the grand jury relatively light, at least so far, pending developments between now and Monday, it is expected that the October grand jury will have time to make the customary visit to the county home, jail and court house to complete a report on the condition of the county-owned properties. Last grand jury was not able to complete its case load in time to make the tour.

While the number of cases for grand jury is light, the number of trials is expected to be larger. Several trials originally scheduled for the last term of court were held over to the October term.

Sixteen cases are on the "continued list," although only a few are expected for trial. Some involve sentencing only, some may remain on the continued list for some time because of circumstances surrounding the cases.

On Continued List
Among the cases on the continued list are: DeLyle Keller, New Oxford R. 2, pointing a gun; Wasyly Dynka, New York City, morals charge; Leroy C. and Mary Weyant, Gettysburg R. 2, and David A. Jones, 133 W. High St., liquor law violation; Ronald A. Phillips, Littlestown R. 2, morals charge; John E. Nelson, operating during suspension.

John H. Beck, York, driving while under the influence; Merle M. Gulden, Gardeners R. 2, driving while under the influence; Mark Michael Sullivan, Harrisburg, pointing a deadly weapon and malicious destruction of property; Harold Dean Welsh, 117 Chambersburg St., malicious mischief; Arthaniel Irvin, Harrisburg, pointing a gun; Albert J. Cumer, Harrisburg, summary conviction; Howard Henry Sandoe, Biglerville R. 1, shooting a human being in mistake for game; Robert L. Shultz, Biglerville R. 2, and Richard E. Heintzelman, Orrtanna R. 1, aggravated assault and battery and assault with intent to rob; Richard Barnes, 310 W. High St., aggravated assault and battery; William Riggelman, Fairfield R. 1, morals charge.

OKLAHOMA AND ARMY ELEVENTS TOP U. S. TEAMS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

To the surprise of no one, particularly West Virginia and South Carolina, Oklahoma and Army ranked 1-2 today in total offense according to National Collegiate Athletic Bureau statistics.

The Sooners, No. 1 in this week's Associated Press poll, swamped West Virginia 47-14 last Saturday, running up 559 yards overall in the process. The Cadets, with the "bazooka offense," humbled South Carolina 46-8 with 529 yards.

Third in overall offense is Michigan State, with 502 yards in its only game, a 32-12 victory over California. College of the Pacific is fourth with 458 yards average in two games, while Washington State has averaged 419 yards in its first two games.

Leads In Rushing
COP leads all colleges in rushing with a 373 yards per game average, with Purdue second with 354. Army is third with 344, Brigham Young fourth with 339.5 and Northwestern fifth with 336. The Sooners top the forward passing offense with 264 yards, while Bobby Newman has Washington State second with his passing for 258.5 yards per game average. Southern Methodist and quarterback Don Meredith, though losing 23-20 to Ohio State, are third with 233 yards.

NINE CIVIL SUITS

White Rose Motors, Inc., asks $6,319.45 as payment for a 1958 Cadillac owned by Eugene I. and Charlotte E. Chronister, Dillsburg R. 2, in an action in assumpsit scheduled for trial at this term. The matter involves purchase of a car which was returned within 24 hours to the motor company. The law firm of Brown, Swope and MacPhail represents the York motor concern. Attorney Charles W. Wolf represents the Chronisters.

Case No. 6 is an assumpsit action brought by C. Russell Rohrbach, Gettysburg R. 2, against Hayward W. and D. Kenneth McClellan, Gettysburg R. 1, and concerns an alleged purchase of nine heifers. Rohrbach claims he paid $10 down to buy the heifers for $940 on April 20, 1957, then found the heifers had been sold to someone else when he went to claim them. Brown, Swope and MacPhail represent Rohrbach and Attorney Daniel E. Teeter the McClellans.

Other Suits Listed
No. 7 is an action in trespass brought by Leo W. and Leo H. Collett, Irwin, Pa., against Robert L. Shultz, Biglerville R. 2. The suit arises from an auto accident a half mile north of Gettysburg on the Biglerville Rd. at 11:40 p.m. May 25.

An action in trespass brought by LeRoy A. and Mildred C. LeVan, Gettysburg R. 1, against Gary A. Light, Hanover R. 1, is No. 8 on the list. It arises from an accident January 22, 1957, a mile south of here in which a car operated by Light crashed into a car operated by Mrs. LeVan near the LeVan home. Attorney Charles W. Wolf represents the LeVans and Brown, Swope and MacPhail represent Light.

$450,000 IN UNION FUNDS ARE MISSING

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — More than $450,000 belonging to Local 234 of the Transport Workers Union has disappeared over the last six years, says TWU President Michael J. Quill.

Quill said Tuesday an investigation of the big local's books by the international had brought to light the missing funds. He said it was the first such investigation of a TWU local.

Quill made his statement after conferring for two hours with Dist. Atty. Victor H. Blanc. At the same time Quill accused local officials of failing to prosecute.

To Allow Probe
The union, Quill said, has no recourse but to let the Senate Racke Committee probe the alleged mishandling of funds.

The committee, headed by Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.), already has subpoenaed the local's books and records.

Blanc, however, said the union bore the responsibility for initiating prosecution. He said his office was powerless to act unless the union swears out affidavits against those who handled the local's funds.

"When Mr. Quill left here," Blanc said, "it was with the understanding his group would meet and decide whether or not to swear out the affidavits or put the matter before the McClellan committee."

Disappeared Since '51
Local 234 has 6,700 members. All of them work for the Philadelphia Transportation Co., which operates the city's buses, trolleys and subways.

Quill said the missing money, mostly dues, disappeared between Nov. 1, 1951, and Nov. 4, 1957, according to the accountants hired by the union to investigate the local's books. The accountants put the loss between $450,000 and $500,000.

The investigation started last year after local President Paul W. O'Rourke and the local's secretary-treasurer, John J. Donnelly, were expelled by the union for allegedly mishandling funds.

Donnelly told a newsman Tuesday night that Quill's accusations were ridiculous and he had been cleared by a bonding company. O'Rourke wasn't reached for comment.

Urge For Ride Leads Doc Astray

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Dr. Roscoe P. Carney, who took a city ambulance for an unauthorized spin around the City Hospital neighborhood, has been let off with a "severe reprimand" by his superiors.

Dr. Carney, 39, assistant resident physician at the hospital, told police he ran off with the ambulance Tuesday "to satisfy an urge caused by long exposure to ambulances."

He was booked on suspicion of taking a motor vehicle without consent of the owner—the city—but the city authorities declined to prosecute.

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Scalpers note: one Milwaukee man won a World Series ticket and then gave it away.

William G. Conrad, head of the trust accounting department at a local bank was one of eight winners in a drawing for World Series tickets among bank employees.

Conrad gave it to Oliver E. Sindorf, an auditor at the bank explaining Sindorf is an ardent fan and would get more enjoyment from the series.

SCRIBES HONOR L. U. LESLIE

SUNBURY, Pa. (AP) — L. U. Leslie, Harrisburg correspondent of The Associated Press, was honored here Tuesday night by some 40 newspaper editors from east and central Pennsylvania.

The veteran newsmen, who will retire soon, was lauded for his contribution to "fair and objective" coverage of political and legislative developments for a quarter of a century.

Leslie, 64, received a portable typewriter from the editors as a token of appreciation for his work in directing the operations of the Harrisburg AP Bureau.

Fred Machmer, news editor of the Sunbury Daily Item, recalled that Leslie is one of the few newspapermen in Pennsylvania history to receive a special tribute from the General Assembly. In 1957, the Legislature adopted a resolution commending Leslie for his work in Harrisburg.

William L. Ryan, Associated Press news analyst, recently returned from the Middle East, told the editors of his experiences in covering the recent revolution in Iraq and the landing of American troops in Lebanon.

ANOTHER NEW NATION TAKES PLACE ON MAP

PARIS (AP)—Another new country took its place on the map today as French sovereignty officially passed into the hands of the Cabinet in Guinea, a west African Negro nation.

Guinea became free at the stroke of midnight. But no new flag flies in Conakry, the capital on a coastal islet about halfway between west Africa's Dakar and Liberia.

The swift consequences of last Sunday's constitutional referendum caught Guinea Premier Sekou Toure's regime flatfooted. It doesn't have a flag or an anthem or any of the other outward symbols of nationhood.

To Launch Republic

In Paris, Premier de Gaulle and his Cabinet worked to launch on Sunday the Fifth French Republic under the constitution approved everywhere in the French Empire except Guinea. De Gaulle had said rejection of the constitution by a French territory would bring it immediate independence.

Toure said in Conakry that his new nation did not want to be cast completely aside.

"In every sphere Guinea will turn first of all to France," he said. "We want to remain in the (French) franc zone. It is only if we are not accepted that we will turn elsewhere."

"We will determine our foreign policy in view of our own interests and we will try to make our viewpoint prevail within the framework of an association with France. But if we do not find a partner (in France), Guinea will be obliged to envisage another attitude," Toure said.

The Premier said his government will ask De Gaulle for a sort of dominion status under Article 88 of the new constitution. Apparently drafted with just such a case in mind, the article says a state which chooses independence can be associated with France to an extent spelled out in a treaty.

FBI JOINS HUNT FOR 2 MEN AND $62,214 IN FURS

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A truck drove up to a fashionable midtown furrier last Sept. 22 to pickup a shipment of valuable furs consigned to Denver, Colo.

The truck driver and his helper loaded the shipment, signed a receipt and drove off.

That was the last anyone has seen of the truck, its two occupants and more important, $62,214 worth of furs.

The FBI disclosed Tuesday it has joined a hunt for the men who carted away the mink and other fur pieces from Mawson De Many Forbes. The furs all were copies of originals created by such fashion designers as Christian Dior, Balmain and Balenciaga.

Morris B. Marks, president of the firm, told police and FBI agents that United Airlines was asked to pickup the shipment of 74 pieces consigned to Denver Dry Goods Co.

Call Intercepted

He said that about an hour later a rented truck drove up to the rear platform of the store. Two men got out. They said they were from E. A. Gallagher & Sons, a trucking firm that does cargo hauling for airlines. Mawson De Many employees said it looked like a Gallagher truck. It had a radio aerial and telephone just like all Gallagher vehicles.

The cargo should have reached Denver on Sept. 24 or 25. It never got there.

Marks said he checked with the Gallagher firm. They had not picked up the shipment he was told. The furrier said apparently a call to pickup the furs had been intercepted. Imposters drove off with the valuable cargo.

Plan Self-Service Idea In Hospital

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A Pittsburgh hospital plans to adopt the self-service idea used so successfully by supermarkets.

A self-service wing will be incorporated in a remodeling project at West Penn Hospital for patients on the way to recovery. Patients in the wing will be encouraged to help themselves, take walks and have as many visitors as they please.

Hospital officials believe the system will eliminate the need for special duty nurses and enable the handling of more patients at less costs for both patients and the hospital.

Fire Insurance Rate Changes Are Studied

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Insurance Department said today it is considering an official request by the Middle Department Assn. of Fire Insurance Underwriters for some rate changes in fire coverage throughout Pennsylvania.

Francis R. Smith, state insurance commissioner, said that the overall effect of the proposed changes might result in a slight reduction of rates.

He said a public hearing almost certainly will be held on the proposed changes filed by the association.

"These rate changes for some sections and types of areas will result in increases in premiums while in others they might result in decreases," Smith said.

McGonigle Going To Sue Drew Pearson

HARRISBURG (AP)—Arthur T. McGonigle, Republican candidate for governor of Pennsylvania, says he has instructed his attorneys to sue newspaper columnist Drew Pearson for statements he claims the writer published.

McGonigle, who said he read an advance copy of the Pearson column for papers this morning, said Tuesday the column was an "incredible attack on me and my brother by Drew Pearson."

The Republican candidate, a Reading pretzel manufacturer, is opposed for the governorship by Mayor David L. Lawrence, Pittsburgh, the Democratic candidate.

A statement released by Pearson's office in Washington said: "I shall be glad to meet Mr. McGonigle in court."

Harvest Of Corn Has Begun In Pa.

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Agriculture Department has reported that scattered sections of southern Pennsylvania have started harvesting corn.

However, the department said in its weekly survey of farm activity Tuesday, that much of the corn crop needs another week to 10 days of frost-free weather to mature fully.

Tobacco cutting is nearly completed with buying already started in Lancaster, the earliest in years.

PEDESTRIAN IS KILLED
YORK, Pa. (AP)—Clarence L. Jamison, 60, of nearby Cly, was killed Monday night when he was struck by an automobile on a county road about two miles from his home.

Donald Pickes, 27, also of Cly, told police that Jamison walked into the path of his car and that he was unable to stop in time to avoid hitting him.

Administration Again In Desegregation Spotlight

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP News Analyst

Only a few days ago Secretary of State Dulles announced the time had come to stand against "indecision and weakness" in foreign affairs. Now the Supreme Court issues a call to the administration for resoluteness on the home front.

The Supreme Court decision Monday may have demolished a number of weapons in the arsenal of the South's opponents of integration. The decision will make it more difficult for the opponents to fall back on a series of devices designed to slow the course of integration.

But at the same time the court action turned the spotlight once again on the Eisenhower administration.

Decision Clear

The court spoke unanimously, with unmistakable clarity: The Constitution is beyond ingenious schemes to avoid its meaning. No state officer can "war against the Constitution without violating his undertaking to support it."

The cold war over integration has raged for almost five years. There is no reason to believe the end is yet in sight. But Monday's court decision seems a severe setback for anti-integrationists.

As far back as 1954 the Supreme Court ruled that segregation in public elementary or secondary schools was unconstitutional. A year later the court struck down the doctrine of "separate but equal" schools and ordered segregation to proceed with "all deliberate speed."

Scheme Is Evasive

Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas and his supporters, to say nothing of other Southern officials, went to work to build a stock of weapons with which to fight the court's order.

Among these weapons was a law which would abolish the state public school system and replace it with another in which Negroes would go to public schools supported by state funds. Whites would attend nonprofit private schools subsidized by the state.

The court has declared this an attempt to nullify the Constitution with "evasive schemes" to perpetuate segregation.

The decision may have all but wiped out several other weapons. Among these was a scheme to permit white students to transfer as they please from one school to another. In effect, then, schools would remain segregated. Another would have permitted installation of segregated classes within theoretically integrated schools.

Court Defines Speed

The court already has spoken out against "evasive schemes." Such devices probably would fall quickly into that classification in any test.

The court has taken into consideration the difficulties of integration in many areas and has spelled out what is meant by "deliberate speed." There are circumstances in which the district courts can make sure that appropriate arrangements have been made to put the desegregation program into operation with as little upsurge as possible. What the court really demands now is a show of good faith in complying with its orders.

Early in the integration row, the administration gave every indication it intended to use whatever power might be necessary to carry out the law as interpreted by the court. But the quarrel went on over the past four years and the administration's plans for dealing with it were never abundantly clear.

Now some of the key arguments of the segregation forces have been struck down by the high court. It has defined the law. The administration is charged with enforcing the law.

AURORA MAYOR IGNORED AS HE FIRES 68 COPS

AURORA, Ill. (AP)—Mayor Paul Egan suspended Aurora's entire 68-man police force Monday night and called on the citizenry to make arrests when laws are violated. But nobody obeyed him, including the cops.

The policemen, who have seen more than 10 police chiefs come and go during Egan's 4½-year tenure, carried on as usual. "Nobody's paying any attention to him," one said.

The City Council passed a resolution 4-1 saying it could not condone Egan's actions. Egan cast the lone dissenting vote.

Charge Personal Reasons
Furthermore, said the Council resolution, it must refuse to go along with the mayor's order firing Police Chief Donald Curran. The ouster was for personal reasons, the resolution read.

It was the Curran episode that led to Egan's latest edict. Failure to crack down on gambling, especially bingo, was the reason he fired Curran, Egan said.

But Curran wouldn't go. In fact, he told the police force not to obey any Egan order unless it was approved by Curran or the corporation counsel.

Egan retaliated. "Because the men of the Police

U. S., BRITAIN TO PULL TROOPS FROM LEBANON

By MAX HARRELSON
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld announced Tuesday that the United States and Britain had agreed conditionally to withdraw their troops from Lebanon and Jordan.

The secretary general said the United States had promised to complete the withdrawal from Lebanon by the end of October if the situation improves sufficiently. He said Britain would begin pulling out of Jordan in October and would complete the withdrawal as early as the situation allows.

Hammarskjöld made his announcement in a 30-page report to the General Assembly on his recent Middle East peace mission. Names Representative

He said he had appointed a special representative to work out arrangements to facilitate the troop withdrawals and that the representative, Pier P. Spinelli, a U.N. undersecretary, is now in Amman.

Hammarskjöld said complete mutual confidence among the Arab countries has not yet been restored. But he expressed the belief "the implementation of the good neighbor policy will meet with growing success."

Unofficial reports in London said the British withdrawal from Jordan will be completed by Oct. 28.

Marines Have Left
The United States already has pulled out its Marines from Lebanon. And it appeared that the remaining 7,500 U.S. soldiers would be departing soon.

Hammarskjöld was cautious about making forecasts on Middle East stability. He said his effort to carry out the Assembly's peace resolution is "still at an early stage and it is therefore premature to pass a judgment on the degree of success it may meet."

Sag Harbor, Long Island, was once the center of the whaling industry around New York City. In 1857, it ships brought in a million dollars worth of oil and bone.

Department are in open, defiant insubordination," read an Egan proclamation. "Aurora is in a state of emergency."

"This mutinous action of revolutionary individuals makes it imperative I act and suspend all members of the police force."

Then he called on the 55,000 residents of this northern Illinois city to make complaints or swear out warrants for any violations of the law.

NAVY DISPLAYS MISSILE FLIGHT

BRUNSWICK, Maine (AP)—As more than 300 guests of the Navy watched, a guided missile roared from the deck of a heavy cruiser far at sea.

A short time later the missile—a Regulus I—glided to a perfect landing at the Brunswick Naval Air Station 100 miles away. The Navy called the firing a complete success.

The launching was from the USS Macon, which was on a Dependents' Day cruise 50 miles off Boston.

The Navy said similar ship-to-shore firings have been made elsewhere, but this was the first in this area.

The 30-foot Regulus I, now outdated by Regulus II, is a stubby-winged missile that resembles a conventional jet plane. Its range is about 500 miles; its speed in excess of 735 m.p.h.

ARABS BALK AT CONDITIONS FOR TROOP REMOVAL

By TOM HOGE
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Arab diplomats balked today over conditional U.S.-British promises for pulling their troops out of Lebanon and Jordan.

A spokesman for the United Arab Republic made clear that, if the troops don't leave quickly, President Nasser's government will lose the matter before the General Assembly.

This echoed a warning delivered to the Assembly earlier by the Sudan that, unless a clear-cut troop withdrawal announcement is made, it will ask for a full-scale debate.

The U.A.R. spokesman said it was not clear from Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld's Middle East report when and under what conditions the Americans and British will get out.

"This is a major question which keeps the Middle East in unrest," he declared.

The eight-nation Arab League, meeting in Cairo today, was expected to go over the Hammarskjöld report and map out a course of action.

WARNS ABOUT USE OF STREAMS BY INDUSTRIES

By RICHARD L. GRAVES
HARRISBURG (AP)—Pennsylvania may find itself literally in hot water unless steps are taken to regulate industrial stream usage, a Health Department official disclosed today.

"We must do something soon or we are going to raise our stream and river water temperatures intolerably," said F. B. Milligan, chief of the industrial waste section of the Health Department's Sanitary Engineering Division.

"There is a growing realization that water temperatures must be regulated," Milligan asserted. "The problem is to find a reasonable degree of temperature that will still protect aquatic life."

Waste Boosts Temperature
Specifically, the problem is the discharge of hot water by industrial plants—principally power plants—that boosts stream or river water temperatures to the point where they endanger aquatic life or present other problems.

The problem will be discussed at a meeting here Oct. 21 between officials of the Health Department and the Fish Commission. The meeting will outline proposed policy for the state in the regulation meeting in Cairo today, was expected to go over the Hammarskjöld report and map out a course of action.

In his report, Hammarskjöld said Lebanon and the United States hoped to see complete withdrawal of U.S. forces by the end of October, if the security situation continues to improve.

He said Britain and Jordan hoped to announce a decision to begin withdrawal in October and that the pullout will be completed as quickly as the situation permits.

Britain has made clear she wants the U.A.R. blockade of oil supplies and plane transport into Jordan lifted before she begins withdrawal.

of water discharge by industry. For industry the problem of getting rid of hot water is considerable. Present Sanitary Water Board policy limits the allowable rise in stream or river temperatures by hot water discharge to two degrees Fahrenheit.

Will Boost Power Cost
The power industry contends that if this regulation is enforced it will mean a 10 to 15 per cent boost in the cost of power, because of the high cost of cooling ponds.

Milligan said the Health Department is considering a report covering water temperature problems made by the Ohio River Valley Water Sanitation Commission.

That agency, which covers seven states, has issued a report recommending river and stream water never be allowed to rise above a temperature of 93 degrees, and during the December to April period above 73 degrees.

The only state which has regulated water temperature is Maryland, which limits industrial waste waters to 100 degrees within 50 feet of the waste outlet.

U.S. Ships, Cargo Planes To Bolster Quemoy Supply

By SPENCER MOOSA
TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—The United States plans to give the Chinese Nationalists C119 Flying Boxcars and big new landing ships to increase supplies to blockaded Quemoy.

A spokesman for the U.S. Taiwan (Formosa) Defense Command disclosed Tuesday that the equipment is on the way. The ships are LSDs (landing ships, dock), which can carry up to six times as much cargo as the LSTs (landing ships, tank) which the Nationalists now are using.

With their present collection of equipment left over from World War II the Nationalists have not been able to get through to Quemoy the 350 tons of supplies needed daily on the besieged offshore islands. U.S. military officials have been urging the Nationalists to step up supply efforts.

Plane Lost
The Nationalist air force reported that Communist ground fire shot down one of its cargo plane parachuting supplies to Quemoy during the night. This was the first cargo plane lost in 16 days of dropping high-priority supplies to Big and Little Quemoy.

The Nationalists have been using old C46 transport planes for aerial drops so far and the most they have mustered on one night was 20. The C46 can carry up to 2½ tons of cargo.

The C119 can airdrop five tons and is better designed for such work than C46s. An undisclosed number will arrive this weekend and Nationalist crews will begin training in them immediately.

The Nationalists have used LSDs in combination with small loaded amphibious vehicles that swim ashore as the vessels stand outside Communist artillery range. In addition, LSDs have the advantage of a center section that can be flooded so that smaller craft can shoot out from it rapidly for the run to the beaches.

One LSD was reported already in Nationalist hands. More are en route but the spokesman refused to reveal the number.

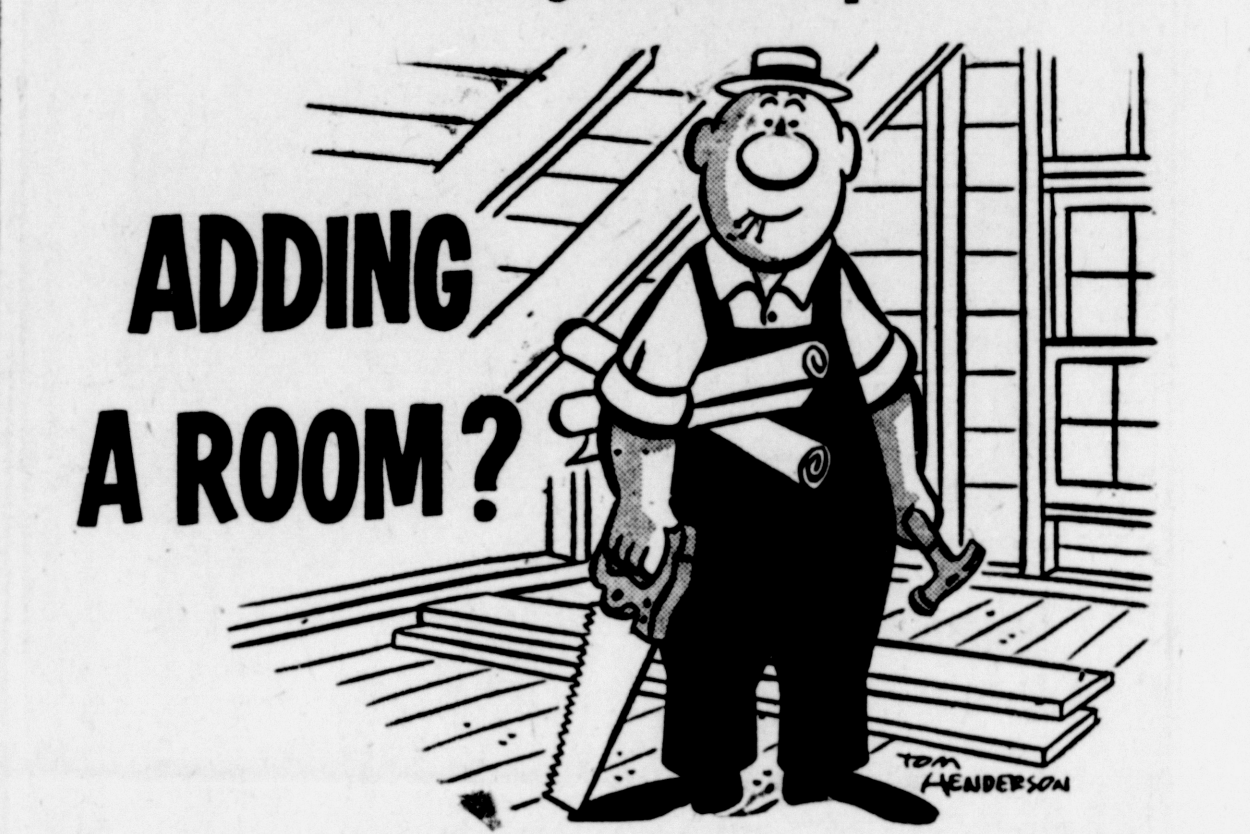

Communist artillery had tried unsuccessfully to stop the nighttime drops by firing artillery shells that explode in the air. This method lacks the density and effectiveness of antiaircraft fire.

There have been rumors on Formosa that the Soviet Union was supplying Red China with long-range antiaircraft guns capable of reaching planes over the Quemoy.

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Nuttany Water Co., Howard, will raise rates by $1.842 a year for its 226 consumers in Centre and Clinton counties effective today.

The boost was authorized by the Public Utility Commission. It said the additional money is needed to meet increased operation costs.

Exotic Foods, International Flair To Last Cooking Meet

Many expressions of admiration have come from homemakers attending the "Foods With A Flair" cooking school, not only regarding the deft demonstrations, the reliable information, the fun and entertainment, but also in regard to the style and beauty of the table settings and platters on which the attractive dishes are displayed during the "Parade of Foods," the finale of each evening session.

The school, sponsored by The Gettysburg Times, goes into its third and final session Thursday night. There will be many familiar faces among those attending when the session gets under way at the Gettysburg High School Auditorium at 7:30 p.m., because the homemakers will be anxious to see what new and delightful project Miss Lorraine Chapman and Miss Janice Plager, the lecturer and assistant lecturer, will have in store for them, and also to further admire the platters and table settings.

Not Expensive Dishes
The two home economists, both members of the Homemakers' Service Department of the National Livestock and Meat Board, state that while they have done much "shopping around" to get attractive platters, no platter used in the school is really unusual or expensive.

"Many women in the audience will own platters like any one of these," said Miss Chapman. "The beauty of these dishes comes from the arrangement of the food and garnishes. Practically always the garnishes are the vegetables or fruits which accompany the meat dish."

Miss Plager, assistant lecturer, who is responsible for garnishing the dishes which are displayed during the "Parade of Foods," said that garnishing is not an art which is restricted to professionals.

Like Family Table
"We try to fix every one of the dishes in the 'Parade of Foods' so it will look just as it would on the family dinner table," she said. "Garnishing meat dishes is a skill all right, but it is one that can be mastered by anyone who will take the extra time to plan the arrangement of the vegetables and fruits on the platter with an eye for exciting color combinations and balance. It is one more way of finding fun and enjoyment in cooking and serving meals—in really providing your family with foods with a flair."

The home economists carry a special platter case which contains the platters for the meat dishes which are prepared and displayed during the school. There is also another trunk which carries the array of beautiful china and glassware and the variety of linens for the table settings.

Special Lighting

The colorful draperies for the background, the gay costumes for the page girls, the stands where the food is placed, and the revolving mirrors are a part of the traveling equipment of the school. Special lighting equipment is also brought along and there is a special utensil trunk which contains all the culinary tools necessary for preparing and demonstrating more than ten meat and pastry dishes a day.

Exotic dishes from foreign lands will give the school an international flair Thursday. Exciting and different, but surprisingly easy-to-prepare foods from foreign lands to be featured include: Lani Spare-ribs, Salad Tropicale, Lasagne, Italian Pork Roll-Ups with Peas and Carrots De Luxe, Sauerbraten, Swedish Spice Cookies, Cosmopolitan Pork Steaks, Kabobs with a Flair, Apple Kuchen and Beef Rib Roast with Yorkshire Pudding.

Guard Will Have Five Battle Groups

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — The Army chief of staff says all 27 of existing National Guard divisions will be continued, each with five battle groups.

The announcement Tuesday by Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor made clear that the Army was virtually abandoning its former efforts to cut back the size of the Guard.

Taylor noted in a speech before the 80th annual conference of the National Guard Assn. that the Army had planned last March to reduce the Guard to 360,000 paid strength. This would have meant deactivation of six divisions and the elimination of numerous small supporting units.

But the last session of Congress demanded, and the President and secretary of defense approved increasing Guard strength to 400,000, Taylor said.

"Foods With A Flair": Spicy Heart Italiane

Have you discovered how much interest you can add to your menus with variety meats?

Good eating and good for you are the substantial, flavor-rich dishes made with these meats. No matter whether it's liver, tongue, sweetbreads, kidneys or heart that is the best-liked in your household, every family has its favored recipes for these delicacies.

Variety meats wear an attractive price tag, too—and lend themselves to many flavorful combinations. Wise homemakers realize that these meats give a good measure of nutritive value, and should be included regularly in the diet.

Heart has always enjoyed great popularity. Beef heart is the largest available and usually weighs about 4 pounds. Veal and pork hearts average about 1 1/2 pound each, and lamb hearts about 1/2 pound. All heart requires long, slow cooking by moist heat.

Frequently this flavorful meat is prepared baked and stuffed. But, for a change it's fun to try a novel dish like this Heart Italiane. Featuring juicy, tender heart cubes braised in a well-seasoned, savory tomato and cheese sauce, it's a perfect selection for parties as well as for casual family dinners. Be sure to have plenty on hand, for everyone is certain to enjoy this tasty dish.

Two pounds of veal of beef heart are needed for this company-special recipe. First, wash the heart thoroughly. Then remove the hard parts and veins. Cut the meat into 1-inch cubes. Brown the heart, 1/2 cup of chopped onion and 1 minced clove of garlic in 3 tablespoons of lard or drippings.

Add 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 2 tablespoons chopped pimiento, 1 can (4 ounces) tomato paste and 1 can (1 pound, 13 ounces) tomatoes. Simmer 2 hours, or until meat is tender and the mixture thickened. Serve over the spaghetti and top with grated cheese. This recipe serves 6 to 8 persons. It's especially good when served with wedges of heat lettuce and herb bread.

Nasser Seeks To Deal U.S. Low Blow In Foreign Oil Field; Calls Arab Confab

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP News Analyst

Under Gamal Nasser's leadership, nationalist-minded Arab leaders are aiming a body blow at foreign oil producers in the Middle East.

The Arab League is inviting all its member states to send delegations to what is being billed as the "first Arab oil conference" scheduled for Nov. 1 in Cairo.

This is on Nasser's initiative. He is pushing hard for the idea of greater producer-state participation in the oil industry, all the way from extraction to marketing. He wants a cut of the oil riches.

All-Arab Pipeline
Among the projects to come before this meeting will be a plan for an all-Arab pipeline parallel to the present Western-controlled lines, and a proposal—from the revolutionary Iraqi regime—for an all-Arab tanker fleet.

These may be pipe dreams at the moment, but they show the way the wind blows. The U.S. State Department cannot overlook the fact that if Western-hating Premier Mossadegh, back in 1953, had had access to transport—even a handful of tankers—he could have marketed Iranian oil and triumphed in a dangerous anti-Western crisis in Iran.

Grudge Against U.S.
One of the most important figures in the Cairo meeting will be 39-year-old Sheikh Abdullah Tariki, director of Saudi Arabia's Department of Petroleum Affairs. He is an ardent nationalist with a grudge against the United States.

Tariki hopes to persuade little British-protected Kuwait, most fabulous producer in the world, to join in these all-Arab schemes to weaken the Western position.

This is a matter of gravest importance for American policy.

There is a temporary glut of oil in today's world market, but this cannot and will not last. Demand will soar in years to come.

At the same time, American search for oil becomes more difficult and far more expensive all the time.

Sought New Sources
After World War I Washington had a fright over the future of American reserves. The State Department backed American commercial initiative to the hilt in the search for new sources. When the fabulous fields of the Saudi peninsula proved to be the world's great oil bank, U.S. policy moved to make certain these reserves did not fall under potentially hostile control.

This fact alone played a large part in the successful effort to bring shattered Western Europe back to economic health after World War II. If control of the oil now should pass gradually out of friendly hands, Europe once again would be endangered.

Need Support Abroad
American oil men abroad need the same kind of resolute support now. They also need to look toward building a defensive position in the face of Nasser's burgeoning offensive.

Nasser's men shrewdly invited the November oil conference. Iran, non-Arab Iran and Venezuela to apparently will resist the over-

GOMEZ RECALLS TENSION IS UP DURING SERIES

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A World Series game is different. The strategy may be the same, the baseball may look like that played during the regular season, but the tension is on a different level altogether.

The authority for this opinion is Vernon (Lefty) Gomez, one of baseball's greatest pitchers. He is the only man to have won six World Series games without any losses.

A Salesman Now
"The Series gave me the greatest thrill I ever got out of baseball," he said. "I was just as nervous in my last game as I was in my first."

Pitching for the New York Yankees Sept. 29, 1932, he beat the Chicago Cubs 5-2 with Lon Warnecke on the mound. Gomez wound up his major league career with the Braves, then in Boston.

Now a salesman for a sporting goods company, he is trim but looks more like a professor than an ex-big leaguer.

"I feel the Series gets you in a different frame of mind than a regular season game," he said. "I don't suppose you are any more careful in the Series than you are in a regular season game, but you don't have the whole season to make up a mistake—it's just seven games at the most. You have to be extra careful because it's short."

"Bad breaks aren't any more a factor in the Series than normally. Players may act as if it is just another ball game, but a Series game isn't just that. It's a most important one. Not only financially for everyone concerned, but in the matter of pride."

OLD LINE GOP MOVE TO BLOCK LOSS OF SENATE

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — Old line party members are maneuvering quietly to block any "Modern Republicanism" from capturing the GOP Senate leadership for years to come.

This is the aim of influential members who have little enthusiasm for President Eisenhower's ideas of modernizing the party viewpoint. They have laid plans they hope will accomplish this result when a new floor leader is chosen to succeed retiring Sen. William F. Knowland (R-Calif.).

Sen. Everett Dirksen (R-Ill.), a vigorous supporter of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio), probably will move into Knowland's command position without challenge. All-out Eisenhower supporters hoped to place one of their number in the line of succession as party whip, the post Dirksen will be vacating.

Bridges Has Plan
However, Chairman Styles Bridges (NH) of the Senate Republican Policy Committee is expected to propose that the leadership base be broadened by the addition of an assistant leader, as well as the whip.

While Bridges is not talking about who might fill such an assistant's post, there was immediate speculation it would go to one of the conservative Republicans. In this connection, the names of Senators John W. Bricker of Ohio, Karl E. Mundt of South Dakota, Barry Goldwater of Arizona and Carl T. Curtis of Nebraska were mentioned among others.

Traditionally, Senate Republicans have picked their floor leader by promotion. If the leadership base is expanded, there is some expectation that a modern Republican might get the whip assignment in the interests of outward party harmony. But his chance at the top job would be lessened because of the intervening assistant leadership.

STILL SEEKING TWO FUGITIVES

MEDIA, Pa. (AP) — Two prisoners who rushed out an open door past a startled guard at Broadmeadows Prison were still among the missing today.

William G. Munson, Jr., 19, Lester, and Frank Roman, 23, Philadelphia, made the break from the Delaware County prison Tuesday. They waited near a rear commissary door for the arrival of a bread man making his daily delivery. When the bread man showed up and was admitted the two prisoners pushed aside guard Russell Neims and fled into near-

Trial Commissioner Fines Self In Court

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Trial Commissioner Nelson Hoskins believes in enforcing the dog quarantine.

He accepts no excuses about broken chains, or children turning dogs loose. The owners are fined. Imagine Hoskins surprise when he went home the other evening and found his boxer — always kept chained in the yard — waiting to meet him at the front door.

In court the next day, Hoskins stated the facts in the case to one and all, then fined himself $10 and costs.

CHALLENGES OPPONENTS TO STUDY FACTS

NEW CASTLE, Pa. (AP) — Gov. George Leader, Democratic candidate for U. S. Senate, today challenged his opponent to agree to an "impartial examination of the facts by a committee of three editors or editorial writers representing outstanding Pennsylvania newspapers."

Leader made the offer in a speech prepared for a rally here. He said he took exception to a statement this week that he had been inaccurate in discussing the Congressional voting record of U. S. Rep. Hugh Scott, his Republican opponent for the Senate.

Scott's "repeated failures and neglect of duty as a Congressman are a matter of public record," Leader said, adding:

"My opponent is now trying to throw up a smoke-screen of charges in order to hide the basic facts about his record. I propose that we cut through the smoke-screen by submitting the facts I have cited to a committee of editors or editorial writers."

Lawrence Called Home
"If he refuses to join me in arranging for this impartial examination of his record, then he should stop trying to alibi his way out of it," the governor said.

Mayor David L. Lawrence, Democratic gubernatorial candidate, cut short his campaign tour Tuesday and returned to Pittsburgh because of a strike at five major hotels.

His speech, prepared for Clarion, was delivered by Lt. Gov. Roy E. Furman, whom Lawrence defeated in the Democratic primary. In the prepared remarks Lawrence promised to use "the finest citizens in the state" to help provide good government if he is elected.

He said his goal, as governor, would be to help make Pennsylvania the most powerful, the most productive and the most progressive state in America.

BLAME WHEEL IN DERAILMENT

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (AP) — The Pennsylvania Railroad says a loose wheel on a freight car caused a derailment that killed one man and injured two others. Seventeen freight cars jumped the tracks and smashed into a signal tower in the railroad's Conemaugh Yards Tuesday, killing Donald D. Chilcot, 42, of Johnstown R.D. 5, the control operator.

Admitted to Memorial Hospital in serious condition was Frank J. Augimeri, 26, of Johnstown. Frank by woods. The prison has no fences.

Munson had completed a six-month sentence for burglary. He was awaiting money from relatives to pay a $300 fine. Roman had two months to go on a nine-month sentence for rape.

State and local police continued to hunt through the woods and surrounding areas for the two escapees.

The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Brodie

HOW AMERICANS WORSHIP

The Buddhists

If it seems strange to see Buddhism listed as an American faith, remember that freedom of religion has attracted to our shores many peoples who have brought with them from distant lands their unique beliefs.

With more than half a billion followers, Buddhism is the world's most widespread system of worship. Its temples have arisen in some of our larger cities, as have Mohammedan mosques and other exotic edifices.

As a religious artist intent on seeing how Americans seek God, I recently visited a Buddhist temple in Los Angeles. There, in a setting of oriental magnificence, incense burned fragrantly on an altar. A gong sounded somewhere in the depths of the beautiful structure and an organ played softly. The minister, in bright red robes and with beads draped on his hands, led the congregation in prayer.

"I am the link in Lord Buddha's golden chain of love that stretches around the world. I will try to be kind and gentle to every living thing. I will try to think pure and beautiful thoughts, to say pure and beautiful words, to do pure and beautiful deeds."

Ladies Make Noodles For Church Fund

RACINE, Wis. (AP) — The ladies of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine of St. Lucy's Church are using their noodles — to raise funds for the parish's school fund.

Leader of the project is Mrs. Louis Szondi who was presented with a jeweled rolling pin when hailed by her fellow workers as the confraternity's "Empress of Noodledom."

Following a close time table — because you can't rush a noodle — the ladies will produce 200 packages of noodles to be sold for 50 to 75 cents a package at the annual bazaar.

NEW ULM, Minn. (AP) — The German language is staging a comeback in New Ulm, founded by immigrants from Ulm, Germany, in 1854.

A teacher has been hired to teach a course in German at New Ulm High School next year. The language has been "dead" in the schools for many years, although many of the older residents still speak German and one church still has a German service.

J. Ulle, 49, of Conemaugh, was treated and released. Chilcot and the injured were working in the two-story brick tower.

The derailed cars were at the rear of an 88-car freight train en route to Detroit from Harrisburg. Crews worked through the night to clear debris that was scattered across the four main line tracks in the railroad yards. Traffic was re-routed over other tracks. Both passenger and freight traffic was delayed.

AUBURN GUARD FIRST LINEMAN OF THE WEEK

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
It's World Series time and also the time of year to start picking the Lineman of the Week.

Tennessee failed to make a first down against Auburn last Saturday. For his part in helping to bring this about Zeke Smith, Auburn guard, today was named the first Lineman of the Week for the 1958 football season.

The 210-pound junior topped such other linemen as Bill Kerr, Indiana guard, and Ron Luciano, Syracuse tackle. In The Associated Press poll of sports writers and broadcasters.

Others Praised
Smith, who stands 6-2, was graded 98 per cent on defensive efficiency. He broke through and spilled Tennessee runners time and again as Auburn won 13-0. He was rated near the top on offense, too.

Other Auburn linemen center Jackie Burkett, tackle Jim Jeffrey and end Jerry Wilson, also received praise.

Kerr, a sophomore, was named an "unsung hero" for his play for Indiana against Notre Dame by the Chicago Football Writers Assn. Notre Dame won 18-0 but Kerr's inspired performance held the Irish to a mere 6-0 lead until the closing minutes.

Other Nominees
Luciano provided the key play as Syracuse came from behind to beat Boston College 24-14. With BC ahead 14-12 in the last quarter Luciano threw John Amabile. Eagle quarterback, so hard he fumbled. Luciano recovered the loose ball on the BC 25. A few plays later Syracuse scored the winning TD.

Other linemen nominated included center Don Warburton of Brown for his defensive work against Columbia; tackle Ronnie Erchul and guard George Fritzinger of Navy for their work against William and Mary and guard Joe Abbatiello of Northwestern for his play against Washington State.

AF Museum Claims Largest Piece, A B36

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Officials of the Air Force Museum at Dayton lay claim to what they believe is the "largest museum piece in the world."

You can go to the museum now and gaze at the old giant. It's the Air Force's oldest B-36, which has come to rest here permanently.

The hefty 179-ton bomber has joined other historic craft in the display. The plane was the second B-36 built for the Air Force. It had 1,500 hours of flight before being flown here in February from Ramey Air Force Base in Puerto Rico. The first B-36 was dismantled.

PRODUCTION OR LEISURE

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — Automation with a 40-hour work week could double the standard of living in the United States in the next 25 years, says Prof. William Haber, University of Michigan economist.

Haber says the determining factor will be whether automation is used to increase production or provide greater leisure.

BARN FIND

CRETE, Neb. (AP) — Les Burch, a telephone lineman, bought an old barn at auction for $35. It turned out to be a profitable purchase.

While wrecking the building, he found a tin can containing four $20 gold pieces and three $10 pieces, all in mint condition. Dates on the coins ranged from 1881 to 1900.

NAVAL CONFUSION

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Two non-related recruits, both named R. L. McDowell, confused the Navy even further by looking alike.

Each was 17 and stood 6-foot-2 in size 12 socks.

R. L. (for Robert Lynn) is from Everett, Wash., and the other R. L. (for Raymond Lamar) comes from Warner Robins, Ga.

REP. SCOTT SETS LEADER "RIGHT" ON PARTY VOTE

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Congressman Hugh Scott, Republican candidate for the U. S. Senate, today told his Democratic opponent, Gov. George M. Leader, to get in step with his own party's voting record on Formosa and Quemoy.

Scott said Leader had "lost his way" in attempting to develop a foreign policy campaign issue concerning the Formosa Declaration.

"Leader's view on the handling of the Formosa issue is not surprising because he knows so little about foreign affairs," Scott said. "He has taken the attitude that what is happening there is not very important."

He Tells Leader
"I don't think there is anything more important than the life and death issues which are involved in our foreign policy. Our very survival as human beings and as a nation depends on your representatives in Washington and how they handle decisions which can mean peace or war."

"Who authorized (President) Eisenhower to proceed diplomatically and with preventive, deterrent force, exactly as he is proceeding?"

"I'll tell candidate Leader. All the Democratic senators except 12; all the Republican senators except 7. And this vote was taken on the specific issue of deterring invasion of Quemoy."

Cites Quency Scandals
"If he wishes confirmation, I'll be glad to send him a copy of the Congressional Record."

Arthur T. McGonigle, GOP gubernatorial nominee, called the administration of Gov. Leader the "perfect breeding ground for corruption."

"Everyone who has read about the cinder scandals in the Leader Administration's Highway Department is bitterly disappointed in the conduct of his office," he said in a speech prepared for a Tiunville rally today.

GARRY MOORE'S NEW SHOW HAS BRIGHT START

NEW YORK (AP) — Garry Moore launched a new weekly show on CBS-TV Tuesday night that promises to add a new dimension to that tired old species of television entertainment called the variety program.

It is amusing, imaginative, distinctive. The introductory number inquired, "How do you build a show?" Moore provided the answer as the hour progressed.

You take comedian Marion Lorne as a regular member of the cast. Then add a guest like Janis Paige teaming with Moore in a song sketch about moving to the country. And throw in a guest like Red Skelton hurling some pleasant insults and a singer like Gordon McRae singing music as it was written.

The implausible and surprising are essential to the new Moore recipe — as, for example, tossing most of the cast thoroughly in walrus blankets held by residents of the Aleutian Islands.

If the description sounds confused, take a look yourself next Tuesday night and see if you could describe the new Garry Moore show as anything but loads of fun.

Fisher May Flop
Eddie Fisher, coming back Tuesday night over NBC-TV, acted like a young man with something on his mind besides a television show.

You could not blame him. The program was not worth close attention.

Fisher, as always, was a superb ballad singer. But, as always, he still is not a strong master of ceremonies. As such, he is miscast. He is an able performer who depends on his guests.

Although Ernie Kovacs and Jerry Lewis, the principal guests, had weak material, they helped to carry the show.

In the words of an Eddie Fisher fan who watched the program with this department: "I didn't like a lot of it. I just wish they'd let Eddie Fisher sing."

Youth Too Curious; Arrested For Theft

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — The curiosity of a 13-year-old boy led to his arrest on burglary charges.

The boy asked Mrs. Ross Mitty whether police had found any fingerprints on an envelope containing three small diamonds taken from her home.

Suspicious, Mrs. Mitty notified police. They asked the boy for his fingerprints to compare with those left by the burglar. The boy confessed — which made things easier for police who had found no fingerprints at the scene.

SAYS TALK OF BANK ROBBERY MEANT NOTHING

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — "We never intended to rob any bank. It was just talk to get our mind off our business problems."

So testified one of three men on trial here in what U. S. District Court Judge John W. Lord described as a "silly case" but serious for the defendants.

The three men are charged with conspiring to rob the Reamstown Bank in Lancaster County.

Completely Irrational

Raymond B. Schermerhorn, an Ambler carpenter who formerly lived in Reading and Norristown, told the jury of eight men and four women:

"It was completely irrational on our parts. Hundreds of people say 'Let's rob a bank' when they need ready cash—millions in fact. But I never intended robbing any bank."

Schermerhorn, Joseph T. Alessi, media contractor, and George W. Loman of Reading are the defendants in the unusual trial. Schermerhorn, 38-year-old father of three children, admitted the defendants met with one or two others and talked about securing runs and robbing a bank. They never did.

Called Honest

Alessi virtually made the same statements when he testified in his own defense. After he left the stand his attorney presented six character witnesses all of whom testified Alessi's character was "excellent." They told the court he was honest and a law-abiding citizen.

Police Chief William J. Hampton of Upper Providence Township in Delaware County said he knew Alessi for 15 years, and never had any official business with him.

Loman has yet to testify in the case which is expected to reach the jury late today.

DEATHS

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (AP) — Dr. John F. Anderson, 87, former research director for E. R. Squibb & Sons, died Monday of a heart attack. Anderson was research director of the firm from 1916 to 1946 and served on the board of directors until 1952.

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — George L. Denny, 80, attorney, former mayor of Indianapolis and prominent in Republican politics, died Monday. Denny, who served as mayor for six months in 1947, was the son of Caleb S. Denny, who was Indianapolis' only three-term mayor. He was born in Indianapolis.

MOSCOW (AP) — Pravda Tuesday reported the death of Vasily Nikolayevich Baksteyev, 96, whom it called Russia's oldest artist. The Communist party newspaper said his death was "a heavy loss" to Soviet arts. It did not disclose the date or place of death.

MORRISTON, Ark. (AP) — Cecil L. (Cec) Taylor, 52, teletype operator for The Associated Press at the Little Rock bureau, died Tuesday of a heart attack. Taylor, a long-time AP employee, also had worked in bureaus in Chicago and Kansas City. He was born in Clarksville, Ark.

CHRYSLER AND UAW STRUGGLE OVER CONTRACT

DETROIT (AP)—Chrysler Corp. and the United Auto Workers struggled today to break their contract negotiations deadlock — on the eve of the union's threatened strike at General Motors Corp.

The UAW has set a General Motors strike for 11 a.m. Thursday unless a contract is reached before then for GM's 250,000 workers. More negotiations were on tap today.

The nearly nightlong Chrysler talks were adjourned about 3 a.m. Talks Snagged

The Chrysler talks, reportedly snagged on issues of seniority and salaried employees' pay, went into pre-dawn hours for a second successive day.

Neither Walter Reuther, the union president, nor Chrysler's Vice President John D. Leary, chief company bargainer, attended the owl-hour discussions.

Reuther moved into the GM talks Tuesday hours after failing to settle at Chrysler.

At the time he expressed confidence of a quick Chrysler settlement, but Leary later did not join him in this.

The contract drive for Chrysler's 70,000 workers followed the union's agreement with Ford. This included a three-year contract with improved layoff pay, a new provision for severance pay, and continued cost of living and productivity wage increases.

Ford and the UAW reached agreement Sept. 17, shortly after 98,000 Ford workers went on strike across the country. The settlement was estimated at 24 to 30 cents an hour per worker over three years.

The average hourly wage for auto workers as a whole under old contracts was about $2.43.

URGE BAN ON SUNDAY SALES

HARRISBURG (AP)—A resolution calling for a legislative ban on general retail store sales on Sunday highlighted the 26th annual convention of the Pennsylvania Retailers Assn.

The more than 200 retail executives attending the one-day meeting Tuesday also elected William H. Hager Jr., Lancaster, as president to succeed Karl V. Eckel of Johnstown.

Other officers elected or re-elected were Bernard S. Horne, Pittsburgh, Donald C. Mills, Philadelphia, Roy A. Semmerhof, Erie, F. W. Deisroth, Hazleton, Edward S. Lauffer, Greensburg, and Edward G. Prociun, McKeesport, all vice presidents, and John C. Boyer, York, treasurer.

The resolution on Sunday sales was passed unanimously after an address on the situation by Dist. Atty. Paul S. McGinley, Lehigh County, and a Democratic candidate for the state Senate.

McGinley, who has led prosecutions against business firms operating on Sundays in his area, said that if the growing trend of business on Sundays continues, more and more stores will be forced to remain open.

Fielding Cleans Up On Laundry Deal In Russia

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Romaine Fielding's plan to show off a U.S. laundry at a Moscow fair went down the drain. But he cleaned up in the Soviet Union anyway.

Fielding, a 38-year-old dealer in laundry equipment, flew home to Los Angeles to await arrival of $30,137.

Where's the money coming from? The Russians.

"It all started as a potential tax-free junket to Russia," Fielding said. "I heard there was to be an American trade fair there and signed up for a laundry exhibit. Then I gathered together four accounts to supply the machinery and put everything aboard a ship bound for Helsinki, Finland."

Planned To Demonstrate

Fielding's laundry was still on the high seas when he got news the Moscow fair had been called off. He went on anyway and made a deal to demonstrate his equipment at a Moscow housing project.

"We couldn't put up one of the modern type American laundries," he said, "but we took over a basement and hung out a sign. Practically everyone here in Russian circles except Khrushchev and his Cabinet visited our exhibit. They all marveled at the speed with which our American machines worked, especially the shirt-pressing equipment."

Fielding's laundry had been cranking away for about two weeks when a Moscow city Soviet official approached him and asked what he'd take for the works. He named his price and that was it.

Everyone was happy except Mrs. Fielding. While her husband dined the Soviets with Yankee washing machines, she did their personal laundry by hand.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

CHOOSE WOMAN AS DOCTOR OF YEAR IN PENNA.

POTTSTOWN, Pa. (AP)—A 60-year-old woman physician was rather puzzled today by her selection as Pennsylvania's general practitioner of the year.

Dr. Alice E. Sheppard, who has delivered 1,800 babies since starting practice here in 1928, doesn't look upon herself as a general practitioner.

"I consider myself an obstetrician," she said when informed of the honor bestowed on her Tuesday by the Medical Society of Pennsylvania.

"Nobody Else Bid"

"Naturally, I'm honored, but I think nobody else bid for it," she said with a chuckle.

The award is given annually to the Pennsylvania doctor judged to have done the most in her profession during a year. She will receive the award and citation at the 108th annual meeting of the society in Philadelphia, Oct. 12-17.

The first woman to be so honored since the society started making the award in 1948 disclosed she was the subject of a three-page spread in a national magazine in 1949. She was described as "the typical woman physician."

Dr. Sheppard, who lives in a house on the Hill school campus and practices in Pottstown, says she loves obstetrics.

Thrill Each Time

"My only regret is that the obstetrician can't combine his work

PREP IS FINED $8,000; MUST SERVE 2 YEARS

HARRISBURG (AP)—Victor Prep, Frackville cinders contractor already in jail for conviction on fraud and conspiracy charges in York County, was sentenced Tuesday for a series of cinder frauds in Lancaster and Chester counties.

Judge Homer L. Kreider, Dauphin County Criminal Court, fined Prep $8,000, ordered him to make restitution of some $40,000 and sentenced him to an additional two to four years in prison.

On the Lancaster County cases, involving about $20,000, Prep was fined $350 on each of 14 cheating charges and was sentenced to serve from two to four years on each charge. The terms will run concurrently. He was fined the maximum $500 and sentenced to serve from one to two years on a conspiracy count.

Fined On Six Counts

Prep was fined $350 on each of six cheating charges based on the Chester County frauds. He was sentenced to serve from two to four years, concurrently, one each count. On a conspiracy charge involved in the Chester cases, he was fined $500 and given a similar prison sentence.

All the sentences were scheduled to begin on expiration of a one to two-year term Prep now is serving on four fraud charges and a conspiracy count in connection with cinders deals in York County.

Sentence was imposed on Prep following what court officials called a "proceeding unique in Dauphin County Court history." It began Sept. 10, went into recess for two weeks while the district attorney's office conducted a parallel investigation, then resumed Monday.

"Had Most To Gain"

Dist. Atty. Huetie F. Dowling told the court it "still is the contention of the Commonwealth that Prep was the principal in these cases. He owned the business; he had the most to gain by the cheating. We do not retreat a single step in declaring these frauds were put into operation lock, stock and barrel by Victor Prep."

Dowling said "these frauds are considerable to the Commonwealth, because public funds have been taken."

Sentencing came almost as an anticlimax after the hurly-burly events of the presentencing hearings.

Confession By Price

A major development of the hearings was a confession by Philip J. Price of Columbia, that he was guilty of a series of cheating charges of which a jury had found him innocent. Price is serving a three month to one year sentence on a conspiracy charge in County deals.

Price said he made the acknowledgment to block Prep's untrue charges against a friend and financial benefactor, David R. Eaby, Lancaster County Democratic chairman.

Army Has Difference In Opinion For Height

DES MOINES (AP)—Big Jim make up his mind how tall he is. The induction station said he was 6 feet 5½ inches and thus eligible for the draft. So he quit his job, shipped his family's effects home to Peoria, Ill., sold his car and reported to Chicago for a draft physical.

The draft board measured him at 6 feet, 6½ inches — too tall for induction. The Army's limit is 6-6. He was not inducted.

REALIZES AMBITION

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Jimmy Whyte of Fife, Scotland, a sailor on the British aircraft carrier Ark Royal, realized his ambition on the visit of his ship to this port.

Jimmy wanted to ride in an American police car with the lights flashing and sirens screaming. On his first night ashore he told police about it. He rode with two officers, S. E. Cherry and E. W. Farr. He liked it and they liked him, so Jimmy spent every night of his four-night liberty with them in the police car.

with that of the pediatrician. Once you deliver a baby you have nothing more to do with it. You can't help it grow up."

She divulged one of her secrets, that after 1,800 deliveries she still gets a thrill with each one. "It's always a drama, always a new adventure. I wouldn't trade my work for anything."

A native of Pottstown who received her medical degree from Women's Medical College in Philadelphia 31 years ago, she now is head of the Obstetrics Department at Pottstown Hospital.

Dr. Sheppard, who is not married, served a one year internship at Lancaster General Hospital after her graduation from medical school, then she returned to Pottstown where she has labored ever since.

Guinea Wants Freedom With And Not "Against" France

By DAVID MASON

PARIS (AP)—"We want a free and dignified marriage and not divorce," said the troubled Premier of newly independent Guinea.

"We don't want independence against France, but rather with her," the handsome, black-suited Negro leader explained to a reporter in his distant capital at Conakry.

Results of the Sept. 26 French constitutional referendum from the rain-swept tropical country-side showed a margin of 40-1 against Gen. Charles de Gaulle's constitution.

Sekou Toure, a former French trading company junior clerk whose ancestors helped found the 13th century African Mali Empire, had told his followers to vote "No."

Roger Sherman Said To Be Unique Patriot

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Roger Sherman of Rye, N. Y., says his great-great-grandfather, Roger Sherman of New Haven, was "unique in the great company of patriots of his day."

This was because he alone signed "all the great founding papers of this country." — the 1774 Articles of Association, the address to King George III by the Congress, the Declaration of Independence, the Articles of Confederation and the Constitution.

It seems statehood is always around the corner, then there is another corner, and there are so many that they are soon rounded off and now we're going in circles," he told an audience.

OFFICIAL DESPAIR

HONOLULU (AP)—Territorial Sen. William H. Hill says he is getting pessimistic about Hawaii's chance for statehood.

"It seems statehood is always around the corner, then there is another corner, and there are so many that they are soon rounded off and now we're going in circles," he told an audience.

EYE DIVE

PACHUCA, Mexico (AP)—Raul M. Cruz, 16, was hospitalized with a broken arm and collarbone after diving into an empty swimming pool. The investigator's report noted the youth is nearsighted.

The white ballots (yes) meant white Frenchmen. Dark purple ballots (no) meant the black man. Purple won.

So today 36-year-old Toure has his own little empire, an aluminum and iron ore-rich nation on Africa's west coast.

True to his promise to any territory which voted down his constitution, De Gaulle gave Guinea its sovereignty at midnight Tuesday.

But already, Sekou Toure (pronounced Say-coo Tour-ay) is having second thoughts about the freedom of his own shaping.

Two Months To Decide

Frenchmen running Guinea's customs, postal, telephone, phone and radio services, and French teachers will decide in two months whether they want to go home or work for Toure.

French army units will pull out within three months, leaving internal and external security to Guinea.

French aid, which has totaled more than 15 billion francs (33 million dollars) in the past 10 years, will be cut off.

This leaves Sekou Toure pretty much alone with his 2½ million Fula, Malinke and Soussou tribesmen.

"Even if France wants to abandon Guinea, she will remain despite herself," Toure said. "Colonization has its positive things. We will keep French culture. We want to stay in the franc zone."

"For the moment we aren't even thinking about our own money, nor even our own flag."
